THE DECATUR DAILY REVIEW

FORTY-FIFTH YEAR—NO. 8. DECATUR, ILLINOIS, TUESDAY, JANUARY 8, 1924. 16 PAGES—PRICE THREE CENTS

Order Illinois State Troops To Marion

Bootleggers' War Gets Beyond Control of Williamson County Authorities.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 8—(AP)—Troops were ordered to Marion, Ill., shortly after one o'clock this afternoon by Adjutant General Carlos E. Black. A bootleggers' war in the vicinity of Marion has become so threatening that Sheriff George Galligan wired the adjutant general that the civil officers are unable to cope with it.

The adjutant general said three companies would arrive at Marion at 8:58 o'clock tonight. They are the National Guard infantry outfits of Salem, Cairo and Mt. Vernon.

ARREST TWENTY.

Herrin, Ill., Jan. 8.—Twenty men were in jail today under federal charges of violating the dry law as the result of the third series of raids in Williamson county in less than three weeks in which 212 persons were arrested.

300 DEPUTIES.

The raids last night were led by A. J. Armitage and S. G. Young, enforcement agents and were participated in by about 300 deputized citizens, a number of whom admitted membership in the Ku Klux Klan. Raids were made in Herrin, Freeman and Weaver. The resort of Joe Palaio at Freeman was set afire after his place had been raided.

Herbert Mezo, who was passing in an automobile, exchanged words with raiders. He fired a shot and was arrested. State Representative Handy, whose home was raided recently, assisted the raiders. In that raid a bottle of moonshine was found in the ice box but Handy has declared that the raid was "framed."

U. S. CLEARLY WITH OBREGON

Coolidge Puts Embargo on Sale of Arms to Rebels.

Washington, Jan. 8—(AP)—With Mexican federals on the offensive, according to embassy advices, along the Vera Cruz and Jalisco fronts, hopes of the revolutionary leaders to get munition from the United States have been blocked through the declaration of an embargo which, in effect, will limit shipments of war materials into Mexico to purchases made by the Obregon government.

The embargo was proclaimed by President Coolidge late yesterday.

A cash payment amounting to one half of the total amount the Obregon government is to pay the United States for the war materials recently purchased here has been received. The remainder is payable in thirty days.

DENY CLEARANCE.

Under the proclamation the treasury department would be required immediately to deny clearance at any port or along the border, to arms shipments of any character for Mexico, except where the specific approval of Secretary Hughes for the shipment had been obtained. The department of justice presumably will instruct its agents to cause the arrest of any persons conspiring to violate the law.

President Coolidge's action in signing the proclamation foreshadows orders by the treasury department to the customs and revenue cutter service to prevent the clearing of any ships carrying cargoes of arms from the United States for the Mexican rebels. Orders probably will include directions to the revenue cutters to intercept American ships at sea in the event of their surreptitious departure with arms cargoes from American waters. The navy would be used for this purpose if needed.

TO GUARD BORDER.

Border patrols wil be instructed to watch for arms smuggling expeditions. Secretary Weeks said today, however, that while army commanders on the border would be advised of the issuance of the proclamation, he would construe it at present as addressed primarily to the civil officers along the international line.

The proclamation is supplementary to the determination to sell arms to the Obregon government as a measure of aid in putting down the de la Huerta rebellion. In effect, the administration has gone the whole length of its powers to give direct aid to the Obregon government against the rebels.

ASKS BAN ON SALES.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic floor leader today presented a bill which would prohibit under heavy penalties sale of munitions to foreign government either by the United States government or a private citizen.

The treasury has instructed all customs officials to guard against exportations of arms and munitions which would violate the new embargo.

REBELS EVACUATE.

Mexico City, Jan. 8—Revolutionary forces under Col. Rueda, which occupied Tuxpam, an important oil center in northern Vera Cruz, have evacuated the city, according to a statement given out at the headquarters of the Mexico City garrison.

DECISIVE BATTLES.

Juarez, Mex., Jan. 8—(AP)—Decisive engagements between federals and rebels are expected to be fought on the western and eastern fronts this week, according to dispatches today from Mexico City.

REBELS TAKE FIELDS.

New York, Jan. 8—Officers of the Pan American Petroleum and Transport company today announced that Mexican rebels had taken possession of its fields at Tierra Blanca and Chapapote Nunez. Wells and pipe lines have been shut down, the statement said.

PEKIN KNOWN DEAD NOW 14

Two More Bodies Are Found in Ruins of Starch Factory.

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 8—Two more bodies were found in the debris this morning brought the total known dead in the Corn Products starch works explosion of last Thursday to 14, with 21 still missing. It is believed that it will be impossible to identify any of the bodies uncovered today. Workers are now uncovering the "death pit" or basement in which more than twenty men were trapped.

PREVENT HIGHER LOSS.

Construction methods for day light being used by the Corn Products plant in their Pekin plant probably prevented a much greater loss of life and property in the opinion of David J. Price, engineer in charge of the bureau of chemistry, United States department of Agriculture of Washington, who is one of the board of inquiry sent to Pekin by the federal government to investigate the disaster.

Mr. Price believes that glass used as a main factor in wall construction rather than brick or more solid materials prevented a much greater property loss. He said the force of the explosion which shattered glass in all parts of the plant was such that it would have wrecked solid walls at considerable distances if the glass had not given away and allowed the pressure to be relieved.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS IS FIVE YEARS OLD

Organization Pleased with 1923 Efforts.

Geneva, Jan. 8 — Thursday marks the beginning of the fifth year of the League of Nations. The league in a statement declares that 1923 saw the completion of the task of creating the main elements of its organization and the extension of its work to new and wider fields.

VENIZELOS ENJOYS BETTER HEALTH

Stuckey, the physician who has been attending her since she was discovered in a state of apparent unconsciousness yesterday.

Photo shows the city of Sciccia, Sicily, where the first body from the destroyed French dirigible Dixmude was brought. The wreckage of the dirigible, according to cable reports, lies just beyond the city. Fishermen from this city found the first bodies.

SENATE FIGHTS SPECULATORS

Adopts Ladd Resolution Aimed At Wheat, Future Traders.

Washington, Jan. 8—First action of this congress to aid the farmer was taken today when the senate adopted the Ladd resolution regarding wheat speculators.

The measure directs Secretary Wallace to publish findings of grain futures administration as to position on the wheat market taken by the "Well known professional speculators and the members of the large 'futures' commission houses of the Chicago Board of Trade."

STABILIZE PRICES.

Meantime agricultural committees heard representatives of farm organizations on the Norris-Sinclair bill for creation of a $100,000,000 government corporation to purchase and sell farm supplies with a view to increasing and stabilizing prices.

A. E. Bowen of Minneapolis, representing the Farmers Stabilization association, told the senate committee that North Dakota could not be sold for enough to pay the total indebtedness, mortgages and bonds. He pictured a very serious situation in the middle and northwestern states.

State Senator Ingerson of North Dakota told the house committee that federal aid to farmers was necessary since the obstacles to voluntary organization of cooperative marketing systems were almost insurmountable.

SAYS WE NEED JACKSON NOW

W. G. McAdoo, Wilson and Other Demos Observe Day.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 8—Something of the rugged character and leadership of Andrew Jackson injected into American public affairs would "re-inspire the nation," W. G. McAdoo today told Democrats of Tennessee in a message sent to the conference of party leaders in Nashville in celebration of "Jackson Day."

"Please extend my greetings and best wishes," the message added, "to my friends who are meeting in Nashville on Jackson Day."

WREATH ON STATUE.

Washington, Jan. 8.—In observance of the 109th anniversary of the Battle of New Orleans, President Coolidge today placed a wreath at the base of the statue of Andrew Jackson in LaFayette Square.

"TO REDEEM NATION."

Pittsburgh, Jan. 8.—Former President Wilson in a telegram read Monday night at the annual Jackson Day dinner here, declared the Democratic party was entrusted with "the redemption of the nation from the degradation of purpose into which it has in recent days been drawn," and would "be glad to take part" in "an aggressive fight for the establishment of high principles and just action."

GOV. SILZER ASKS LAW ENFORCEMENT

New Jersey Executive Says Laws Must Stand.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 8—The opening message of Governor George S. Silzer to the New Jersey legislature today recommended enforcement of the prohibition laws with the declaration that "there can be no two views on the subject of law observance and law enforcement."

PARLIAMENT IN OPENING SESSION

London, Jan. 8—(AP)—Although parliament, assembling today, met in an atmosphere of eager political expectation, the first session offered no opportunity for sensational development, for its only immediate business was the unopposed re-election of the Right Hon. John Henry Whitley as speaker of the Commons with the customary felicitations from the leaders of the three political parties and shipment. Questioned, he explained he had received them from his brother-in-law, a tailor of Prague.

COPELAND FOR SOLDIER BONUS

Attacks Mellon and Statement That Compensation Impossible.

Washington, Jan. 8—Charging that Secretary Mellon had "attempted to sandbag the bonus, using a formidable weapon, the pocket-book of the nation," Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York, told the senate today he did not consider tax reduction and the soldiers bonus "so related that one must die if the other live."

COPELAND.

Pointing out that the secretary had said that in the long run the sur-tax reduction which he had promised would bring an estimated increase in revenue of $102,000,000 the senator proposed that this be used as the basis for the bonus.

Declaring in favor of all cash payments at the rate of $1.25 for each day of service, the senator said the total of $1,461,777,263 could be retired in sixty years with a payment of one hundred million dollars yearly, $75,000,000 in interest and twenty-five millions in principal.

Taxes, the soldiers bonus, farm aid and Russia were subjects to which congress gave attention today. Having failed to break the dead-lock over the chairmanship of the interstate commerce committee yesterday, the senate faced a renewal of the contest, Senator Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, continued to lead.

Taxes and the bonus were the subjects of an address by Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York. Representative Beedy, Republican, Maine, was to discuss Russia, a subject which occupied the senate yesterday.

The house ways and means committee continued its work on the Mellon tax bill.

Agricultural relief was the subject of public hearings before both agricultural committees.

FARM AID LAWS.

Farm aid legislation was considered today by both the senate and house agriculture committees with representatives of farm organizations as witnesses.

General approval was given to the Norris-Sinclair bill proposing creation of a $100,000,000 corporation to purchase American farm products and to sell them both at home and abroad.

SHOWDOWN ASSURED.

A show-down among house Republicans on the soldiers bonus was assured today with issuance of a call for a conference Thursday night. The call was so worded to permit consideration of taxation and other pending legislation.

With former service men in the house pressing for action before the end of the month, the Republican organization redoubled its efforts meantime to keep the Mellon tax bill from being displaced on the tentative legislative program.

Senator Borah introduced a resolution yesterday calling upon Secretary Hughes to send to the senate, if not incompitable with the public interest, the text of various reports made during the last six years by persons connected with official and semi-official organizations active in Russia. The resolution was laid on the table.

VILLAGE VAULT FAILS BANDITS

Five Bandits, Hidden in Barn, Surrounded By Police.

Dixon, Ill., Jan. 8—After capturing, binding and gagging night watchman Frank Connors; cutting all wires leading from the telephone office and erecting a barricade of doors from grain cars, taken from the near-by railroad yards, in front of the Ohio State Bank at three o'clock this morning, cracksmen made four attempts to blow the vault in the bank and were forced to leave empty handed when the explosions had aroused the people of the little town.

Every window in the bank building was broken by the explosions and the mechanism of the vault lock was so badly damaged that it has been necessary to summon an expert from Chicago to open it.

The Ohio Bank was held up and robbed by bandits last October.

HIDDEN IN BARN.

The alleged robbers, five in number, were reported hiding in a barn on the Henry Oberschelp farm nine miles south of Dixon at 11 o'clock this morning and Sheriff Rister with a force of deputies, heavily armed, left at noon to surround the barn and capture them.

CHIEF OF POLICE DENIES CHARGES

Moline, Ill., Jan. 8—Ben DeJaeger, chief of Moline police department took the stand in his own behalf yesterday afternoon and entered a flat denial to the seventeen charges of inefficiency, incompetency and violation of police rules, made by Attorney George W. Wood, dry leader.

Attorney Wood left the hearing before testimony was taken declaring that the decision of police and fire commission refusing him permission to question witnesses was unfair.

Two dozen witnesses were called. The majority defended the police chief, declaring they knew nothing of alleged irregularities and violations cited by the dry leader.

Replying to charges that he had permitted twenty-one hootch parlors and distilleries to operate, Chief DeJaeger said he had always co-operated with county and state authorities in suppressing liquor traffic.

The police commission is expected to announce its verdict late today. Charges against five patrolmen were to be considered this afternoon.

SAYS O'RYAN HAS CHANGED FINDINGS

Washington, Jan. 8. — Chairman Reed of the senate veterans committee told the senate today that John F. O'Ryan, the committee's general counsel in its veterans bureau investigation, has "extensively changed" some of the findings he made in his first report published yesterday.

SOLDIER KILLED CLEANING RIFLE

Des. Moines, Ia., Jan. 8—Walter Kruzick, private in Headquarters Company 14th Cavalry, stationed at Fort Des Moines, was accidentally killed Monday while cleaning a rifle.

INSURGENTS HAVE PLAN

Offer Third Tax Plan; Cut Small Income Payments.

Washington, Jan. 8— President Coolidge regards surtax provisions of the Garner Democratic tax program as disregarding the principle that the government should encourage investment of capital in business enterprises rather than in tax securities.

Washington, Jan. 8— Another tax revision program, that of the Republican insurgents in the House, was offered Monday as a substitute for the Mellon plan, which already had drawn the fire of Democratic members of the House ways and means committee.

As outlined to the House by Representative Frear of Wisconsin, a member of the ways and means committee, the insurgents' alternative proposes taxes on excessive profits, gifts, and undistributed profits, an increased inheritance tax, repeal of many of the so-called nuisance taxes, and publicity of tax records.

50 PCT. REDUCTION.

The insurgents' plan calls also for a fifty per cent reduction in the normal tax rates, but would leave undisturbed, the prevailing schedule of surtaxes which reach a maximum of fifty per cent on incomes in excess of $200,000.

Mr. Frear gave details of the insurgent bloc's program in an address, after which he introduced a series of bills carrying the tax changes he recommended. He urged enactment of a law specifically taxing income from municipal and state securities, and declared that a soldiers' bonus bill would be passed, "notwithstanding the protests of big business men."

CUT REMARKS SHORT.

Representative Garner, of Texas, ranking Democrat on the ways and means committee, who had planned to make an extended address in the House, elaborating on the substitute for the Mellon proposal, which he made public last night, announced he was not feeling well, and cut his remarks short.

He inserted in the congressional record, statistics and other data, in support of the Democratic program. They dealt particularly with the amount of revenue that would be raised if the recommendations of the Democrats on the ways and means committee, were carried into effect.

At the treasury it was announced that Secretary Mellon had instructed the department's actuary to prepare estimates of the government income in the event the Democratic program was enacted. It was declared that the Democratic proposal had in no way changed the views of the treasury regarding its program.

OBSTRUCTIVE RATE.

As to the surtax maximum of 44 per cent on incomes in excess of $92,000, as compared with the treasury's recommendation that the existing maximum be reduced to 25 per cent on incomes exceeding $100,000, Mr. Mellon was said to regard the Democrats' figure as "an obstructive rate."

The program put forward by the Democrats, was also the subject of comment by Chairman Adams of the Republican national committee who declared it did not have the support of the great Democratic newspapers or the rank and file of Democrats.

JORDAN SAYS BOK PLAN PRACTICAL

Educator Says Proposal Asks Discussion.

Washington, Jan. 8—The Bok peace plan and Elihu Root, chairman of the committee of award, were assailed today in the senate by Senator McCormick of Illinois, a Republican irreconcilable.

San Jose, Jan. 8.—The Bok prize peace plan can be executed successfully, in the opinion of Dr. David Jordan of Stanford University, and world peace advocate.

"For one thing," he asserted, "it is a plan calling for discussion—not coercion."

LEAGUE SATISFIED.

Geneva, Jan. 8—(AP)—The provisions contained in the Bok peace award created immense satisfaction in League of Nation circles here Monday night. League officials, basing their views upon a somewhat meagre summary of the project telephoned from Paris, said the plan, as outlined, constituted a tremendous contribution to world peace and cooperation.

State Trust and Savings Bank of Mattoon Closed

State Accountants Going Over Books to Determine Affairs of Old Institution.

Special to The Review.

Mattoon, Jan. 8—The State Trust and Savings Bank, which closed its doors Monday morning, is in the hands of the state auditor's department, with a force of accountants at work examining and inspecting the books and affairs of the institution. Arthur Vierya, personal representative of State Auditor Andrew Russell, is directing affairs, having been left in charge by W. B. Whitlock of Springfield, chief clerk in the auditor's office, who was here Monday.

The accountants at work are W. E. Turner of Taylorville, J. G. Gilmore of Danville and C. S. Young of the Federal Reserve Bank at Chicago.

It was reported that a receiver would be appointed Tuesday morning but when interviewed shortly before 10 o'clock, Mr. Vierya said:

"We have nothing to give out on the bank today."

OTHER BANKS WITHDRAW OFFER

It is known, however, that the National Bank of Mattoon and the Central Illinois Trust and Savings Bank, which had offered to liquidate the State Trust and Savings Bank providing inspection of the latter's affairs showed sufficient funds to pay depositors and other indebtedness, have withdrawn their offer, presumably finding the conditions would not justify their taking over the obligations of the closed bank.

These banks had offered, in case of a condition satisfactory to them, to pay the depositors and take the bank building, fixtures and lease at $50,000 cash.

It is unofficially reported that poor paper and mismanagement are responsible for the closing of the State Trust and Savings Bank at this time.

MOLONEY PRESIDENT.

Frank T. Moloney is president of the institution, having been advanced to that position from the cashiership just twelve years ago. In 1910 he was made cashier of the bank, succeeding A. T. Avey. J. A. Montague, who later died, was president at that time, having succeeded J. H. Clark, president and founder of the institution, which opened for business May 16, 1892, under the name, Mattoon State Savings Bank. Mr. Clark was president until his death ten years later.

The first board of directors was composed of J. C. Russell, C. B. Ensign, J. A. Montague, Robert T. Holmes, Daniel Messer, W. D. Jones, Louie Katz, J. H. Clark and W. A. Poorman, J. A. Montague, who later was advanced to the presidency was the first cashier.

CHANGE IN NAMES.

The State Trust and Savings Bank was first known as the Mattoon State Savings Bank, then as the State National Bank, but within the last three years was changed back to a state bank and took its present name.

RUN STARTED RECENTLY.

During the last few years it is known that the bank has not had smooth sailing. At one time a run was started, that was stopped only when the National Bank of Mattoon, the Central Illinois Trust and Savings Bank and several business institutions got behind it and furnished the cash to meet demands. Since that time there have been rumors from time to time of unfavorable conditions.

ORDERED CLOSED AFTER REPORT.

The bank was closed Monday under orders from State Auditor Russell, following the bank's recent report of its condition. According to this report, under date of Dec. 31, the total deposits are $823,340.55; bills payable, $174,000; capital, surplus and undivided profits, $156,266.99, and resources $1,183,613.54.

Besides F. T. Moloney as president, the officers of the bank are: Vice presidents, R. T. Holmes and H. F. Presler; cashier, J. P. Crane; assistant cashiers, Charles S. Neets and Bert Highland. The directors are W. N. McKamy, chairman; M. W. Clark, W. D. Jones, Fred A. Kinzel, Frank T. Moloney, S. W. Phillips, James M. Reed, W. G. Sayin, H. F. Presler and W. H. Simmons.

WIDOWS HIT HARD.

It is said there is considerable sentiment attached to the bank which has been forced to close its doors. The widow of the founder, Mrs. J. H. Clark, now in California, is a heavy stockholder, and widows of other men prominently connected with the institution in its early and successful days, also have stock in the bank. These, it is understood, will be pretty hard hit if the bank is unable to meet its obligations. Mr. Clark, Mr. Montague and other men connected with the bank have been men of high standing in the business and financial world, and in the esteem of the people of the community.

MANY SOUGHT MONEY.

Many depositors visited the bank before the doors were closed to them Monday morning, asking for their money. They were informed by employes of the institution that no money could be paid out, and were instructed to bring their pass books to the bank to be balanced. During the day many others appeared with their pass books, but when they read the notice that had been placed on the door, "This bank closed for examination and inspection of accounts," they turned sadly away. Many women whose savings were in the bank were among those who sought payment.

TWO OTHER BANKS CLOSE

Two other state banks, one at Allenville and the other at Trilla, were closed simultaneously with the State Trust and Savings Bank, for examination. Reason for this action is found in the fact that they both have interlocking directorates with the Mattoon bank, and inspection of their condition and examination of their accounts were ordered by the state auditor.

The Allenville institution is the People's State Bank, with S. W. Willis as president, and the Trilla bank also is the People's State Bank, of which J. L. Alexander is president.

FARMER SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Economic Condition Much Better; 1924 Outlook Is Hopeful.

Washington, Jan. 8—The economic condition of the farmer has improved considerably, according to the committee on statistics of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and his outlook for 1924 is more hopeful.

The committee, in a semi-annual review made public today, attributes the agricultural improvement chiefly to the diminished spread between prices for farm products and for manufactured articles. This has been brought about largely, it says through co-operative marketing and better opportunities for financing with the "general liquidation" of obligations "wherever returns from the crops permit" and expected reductions in acreage this spring with a consequent adjustment of supply and demand.

UNUSUAL ACTIVITY.

Building and construction is described as showing unusual activity. Although the out put of automobiles "continues at an enormous rate" a slowing down in this and in the building industry is predicted as the year advances, "due generally to a potential capacity of output which overtops any immediate likelihood of demand," especially at this season of the year," and the "general conservatism in buying which pervades all classes."

"Upon the whole," the report states, "the situation seems healthy and sound with conservatism strongly in evidence."

E. B. CONOVER, GRAIN MAN IS SUICIDE

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 8.—E. B. Conover of this city, formerly a member of the Chicago board of trade, died of self-inflicted gun-shot wounds at 9 o'clock this morning. He shot himself in his office here at 7:30 o'clock and did not regain consciousness.

Prague Police Seek Trail Of Securities Overdue In U. S.

Prague, Jan. 8— (AP) —A story of missing bonds, a mysterious Serb who paid $40,000 for a suit of clothes, and a Wisconsin farmer who should be grateful to a distant brother-in-law, has come to light in the records of the local police headquarters.

A little more than three years ago a package of bonds, valued at $100,000 and addressed to a bank in Chicago, was mailed in Omaha. It never reached its destination, and investigation showed that the package had been sent erroneously to Rossice, in Czechoslovakia. It was duly received in Prague, but thereupon all further trace of it was lost.

$5,000 IN BONDS.

Three months ago, according to information in the possession of the Prague police, a farmer of Wisconsin presented to the Chicago bank in question five bonds of $1,000 each that had been included in the original

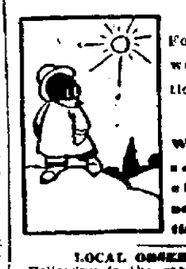

The trail, now back in Czechoslovakia, was again taken up by local detectives, who soon found the tailor.

$40,000 SUIT.

This man related that in the spring of 1921 a Serb, recently arrived from America, ordered a suit of clothes and left with him as a guarantee of final payment, $40,000 in American bonds. The Serb never called for his clothes, and the tailor not knowing what to do with the bonds, finally sent them to his brother-in-law in America, the Wisconsin farmer.

There is, however, another angle to the story. It seems the tailor's son was employed in the Prague post office when the bonds reached there, and this coincidence has led to the arrest of the tailor and his son, who are now lodged in jail pending the receipt of further information from the United States.

TOKOLY JURY IS COMPLETED

State May Exact Extreme Penalty in Booze Death Trial.

JOHN TOKOLY.

Taylorville, Jan. 8—The jury to try John Tokoly of Pana for the murder of George Baldwin, one of the five victims to whom Tokoly is alleged to have sold poison booze last October, was completed at the circuit court here at 1:30 Tuesday afternoon, and States Attorney E. E. Dowell at once began the opening statement to the jury.

THE JURY.

The jury selected from the regular panel and a special veniremen of forty men, leaving only two or three men excused, is composed of the following named men:

C. I. Montgomery, Mt. Auburn.
Pat Pennecke, Greenwood.
Fred Seith, Bear Creek.
Oscar Esch, Taylorville.
H. J. Sharp, Buckhart.
M. C. Nash, Buckhart.
H. C. Richardson, Buckhart.
C. E. Sharp, Buckhart.
Fred M. Carey, Pillsbury.
A. L. Parr, Buckhart.
J. N. Newcomb, Mt. Auburn.
Alex Mercer, Mt. Auburn.

The completion of the jury, which is composed principally of farmers was a surprise to nearly everyone who was following the case as it was expected practically the entire day would be consumed in the selection of the men who are to hear the evidence and decide the fate of Tokoly.

It is understood that Tokoly himself will not go on the witness stand unless it becomes necessary to refute testimony by the state that cannot be answered by any other means.

MAY EXACT DEATH PENALTY

Most of the sixty-some men examined but not accepted as jurors were relieved from jury service because they said they were opposed to capital punishment. As this was done by the state, it indicates the extreme penalty of the law may be exacted.

THE LAW IN QUESTION.

The provision of the statute under which Tokoly, his sons and Robert Smith were indicted and which the defense will attack as unconstitutional, reads as follows:

"Whoever knowingly and willfully sells, barters or furnishes any wood alcohol or any compound or preparation containing wood alcohol or any poisonous liquor to be used for beverage purposes and death results from such use, shall be guilty of murder and punished accordingly."

PRAISE WORK FOR TERRACE GARDENS

A. of C. Directors Pass Resolutions.

Resolutions commending the work of R. B. Irwin Jr. assistant secretary of the Association of Commerce and J. D. Johnson, trustee of the Terrace Gardens housing fund, were passed by the directors of the Association of Commerce at the regular meeting Monday night at which Mr. Irwin's report of the closing of the Terrace Garedns deal was read and accepted.

The report showed that the burden of interest charges of more than $500 a month has been transferred to the guarantors of the housing plan and that the guarantors have been released from all further obligation.

BANKS PAID.

Decatur banks have been paid a total of $107,644.89 including interest accrued and the Association of Commerce has issued its notes payable in five years without interest, to guarantors for the forty per cent of their guarantee paid in to make the liquidation of bank loans possible.

There remains $7,800 unpaid subscriptions out of a possible $100,840 or less than 7.7 per cent unpaid. At least $3,000 of this balance is in estates already closed, making the percentage of unpaid pledges 4.7, part of which is still collectable.

HAVE SURPLUS.

A further report by Mr. Irwin shows that the original Homebuilding Association, formed prior to the beginning of the Terrace Gardens project by nineteen firms and individuals who subscribed $7,000, some four years ago with which to take up second mortgages and aid lot owners to build, has accumulated a surplus of forty per cent of the original subscription, and it has been proposed that this surplus be refunded to the original subscribers. However, no action can be taken until the guarantee is released.

In this report, Mr. Irwin expressed the appreciation of the Association and the trustees for the aid that Decatur banks have rendered to the Terrace Gardens project.

GAINS 7 POUNDS PEPGEN AIDS HIM

"Before I took Pepgen I was so nervous that I felt like flying to pieces. My stomach was also badly out of order and my entire system was in a general run down condition," says R. M. Godker, fireman, 534 Wabash avenue, this city.

"After eating only a few bites of food my stomach would swell and bloat until it was as tight as a drum. Often I would get short of breath. I wasted away until I was the mere shadow of my former self. I had no energy or ambition. I couldn't sleep soundly and my appetite dwindled away to about nothing.

"I tried many different kinds of medicines and treatments for my ailments but nothing did me any good. Finally I tried Pepgen which has a stimulating effect upon the digestive glands and right away I could feel a great improvement.

"I feel like a different man. I have a good appetite and I sleep as soundly as a tired school boy. I can eat anything my appetite craves and get away with it—no indigestion—no-come-back.

"I am stronger than I have been for years and I have gained about seven pounds of good, solid muscle. I surely recommend Pepgen as the king of all gland treatments. It makes me feel like I am growing younger instead of older."

Pepgen has relieved hundreds of Decatur people of gas on the stomach, heartburn, bloated feelings, sour stomach, sick headaches, nervousness, pains in the back, and habitual constipation. Why not you?

Pepgen is sold in Decatur only at the Decatur Drug Co. It may also be obtained at one leading drug store in every nearby town which may be known by a Pepgen sign.

BRINGS OLD ALBUM FOR REVIEW EXHIBIT

Former Owner Unknown to E. W. Barkman.

HAS LINCOLN PICTURE

Woman May Be Mrs. Abe Lincoln.

E. W. Barkman has in his possession an interestig old family album which has no connection with his family, nor does he know to whom it belongs. He bought it when he was in the Barkman & Childs second hand store on Park street in 1910, at the Illinois Traction System's sale of unclaimed goods. The album was in a box of household goods with no identifying marks. Most of the contents were thrown away, but E. W. Barkman kept this album, which is on view in The Review's front window.

AT CHARLESTON.

It is a good guess that the owners of this album came from Ohio to Charleston, Ill. At any rate there are several small pictures made in London, Circleville, Washington Court House, Xenia and Columbus, and some others made in Charleston. "Lawrence & Kelley, Photographic Artists, N. W. Public Square, Charleston, Ill" is on the back of a photograph of a woman in the costume popular about the time of the civil war, while another photograph bears the imprint of Paris & Co., J. W. Perkins, Operator, "South Side Square, Charleston, Ill." The picture of a group of five men, who bear a resemblance to each other, was made by W. H. Jacoby, Xenia, Ohio.

PICTURE OF LINCOLN.

There was also included in this album a photograph of President Lincoln and his son, Tad, with a picture of a woman in the opposite side, believed to be a photograph of Mrs. Lincoln. There are various uniformed men's pictures, some of them signed. One of these is the photograph of Captain Brown, Major 11th, and another of Capt. Wm. H. Shulze, this being made by William Haddock in Circleville, O. The Lincoln picture has no writing on either side, and is evidently such a photograph as admirers could buy in that period, and the family album would be the natural place to preserve such pictures.

MAY BE MRS. LINCOLN.

It has been suggested by several readers that Robert T. Lincoln might be interested in these pictures and would be able to say whether the photograph of the woman opposite the picture of his father is his mother's picture. E. W. Barkman says he would have no desire to charge Mr. Lincoln anything for either of these pictures if he might be interested in them but he has come to the conclusion that they are just ordinary photographs such as were printed by the thousand and sold broadcast over the country.

The mystery of this album has never been cleared up. Mr. Barkman hopes that some one will see this story or the album in The Review window and furnish a clue that may lead to restoration to the owners.

Fined For Assault.

Harry Blackstone, who entertained [illegible] at the Lincoln Square theater last week, was arrested between performances Saturday evening by Deputy Sheriff Theodore Ahrens on complaint of Mrs. Blackstone, who charged him with assault. He pleaded guilty before Justice J. T. Lloyd and was fined $13.10. It was said that during the afternoon performance Blackstone became angry at his wife and threw her bodily off the stage.

KENT KELLER VISITS DECATUR

Ava Man Seeks Nomination for Governor.

Kent Keller of Ava, former member of the state senate, was in Decatur Monday and Tuesday visiting his cousin, George D. Steele, 901 West Macon street, and incidentally calling on prominent Democrats of Decatur.

Mr. Keller is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor and had expected to call on Charles M. Borchers here but found that Mr. Borchers had gone down into his own county.

Mr. Keller has only recently returned from California where he has been with his wife, who is not in good health. He returned to make the race for the nomination, he says, in response to a number of letters asking him to lead the Democrats in the state campaign this year.

PHYSICIANS TO ST LOUIS MEETING

Several to Go to Clinical Congress.

The clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons will hold its annual sessions in the Hotel Statler, St. Louis, Jan. 18-19, and it is expected that several Decatur physicians and surgeons will attend together with medical men from the states of Illinois, Missouri and Kansas.

Further standardization of hospitals in the United States, an aim of the college since 1918, will be stressed more strongly during this year's session, it is expected. Five requirements of all hospitals before the approval of the college is given, impose stringent regulations upon the institutions, but result in elevating them to the highest rank of hospitals in the country.

THE REGULATIONS.

The Decatur and Macon County hospital is not in the approved list because it has not accepted the regulations of the college which are as follows:

1—That the physicians and surgeons privileged to practice in the hospital be organized into a definite group or staff.

2—Membership on the staff be restricted to physicians and surgeons, competent in their respective fields and worthy in character and in matters of professional ethics, and that in the latter connection, the practice of division of fees, under any guise whatever, is prohibited.

3—That the staff initiate and with the approval of the governing board of the hospital, adopt rules, regulations and policies governing the professional work of the hospital; that these rules, regulations and policies specifically provide: (a) that staff meetings be held at least once each month; (b) that the staff review and analyze at regular intervals their clinical experience of the staff in the various departments of the hospital, such as medicine, surgery and obstetrics; the clinical records of the patients, free and pay, to be the basis for such review and analysis.

4—That acurate and complete case records be written for all patients and filed in an accessible manner in the hospital.

5—That clinical laboratory facilities be available for the study, diagnosis and treatment of patients, these facilities to include at least chemical bacteriological, histological, radiographic and fluoroscopic service in charge of trained technicians.

Anthony E. Scroggins, aged about [sixt]y-eight years, died in the Deca[tur] and Macon County hospital at 4 [o']clock Monday afternoon following [in]juries sustained when hit by the [au]tomobile of Fred T. Willhite of [Spr]ingfield on the hard road near the [Bu]ckler farm home a short distance [we]st of Dawson. Mr. Scroggins was [an] Oklahoma farmer who left his [ho]me near Rush Springs, Okla., last [Ch]ristmas day to come to visit his [br]other L. F. Scroggins and other [re]latives in the Dawson and Me[ch]anicsburg neighborhood.

The victim and his brother were in [an] auto and were bringing a cow [fro]m the west along the hard road [to] the brother's farm. He suggested [to] the brother, L. F. Scroggins, that [he] could lead the cow [illegible] and [wh]ile he was doing this, his brother [dro]ve on [illegible] the car about a [illegible]

Just how Willhite, who was driv[in]g to Decatur with his wife, their [bab]y and another woman, happened [to] strike the pedestrian is not ex[pl]ained and Willhite could not be [re]ached Tuesday morning. However, [th]e accident happened early in the [aft]ernoon on the open road. Scrog[gin]s' leg was broken and he sus[tai]ned a bad scalp wound. The cow [w]as received a broken leg.

Willhite [illegible] said to have stopped [illegible] also drove up [an]d stopped. [illegible] there was [so]me debate as [illegible] to take [th]e injured man [illegible] Springfield, [wh]ich was only [illegible] miles [aw]ay, or being [illegible] [tw]enty-eight miles [illegible] Willhite [fin]ally brought [illegible] Decatur.

[illegible]

In [illegible] the brother, L. F. [Scr]oggins [illegible] hospital for a few [min]utes [illegible] he said [illegible] going back to [Spr]ingfield [illegible] because there was a [illegible] road be[tw]een the [illegible] of the accident and [Spr]ingfield [illegible] was afraid of [ge]tting farther [illegible] by driving [ov]er the [illegible] Scroggins [st]ates that [illegible] is some[wh]at rough [illegible] not more than [a] half [illegible] He also states [th]at apparently [illegible] effort was made [to] locate the [illegible] relatives in or [aro]und Dawson. He was waiting at [th]e side of the road in his car some [dist]ance [illegible] for the brother to [co]me up [illegible] the cow. He con[tin]ued a [illegible] and did not know [wh]at had [illegible] until he got word [fr]om [illegible] that the brother was [in] the hospital.

ACTRESS TELLS SECRET

Tells How to Darken Gray Hair With a Home-Made Mixture.

Joicey Williams, the well-known American actress, recently made the following statement about gray hair and how to darken it, with a home-made mixture:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will gradually darken gray, streaked or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and ¼ ounce of glycerine.

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."

TELLS HOW TO BEAUTIFY EYELASHES

Irene Franklin

"I am familiar with, and have tried every eyelash Cosmetic on the market," says Irene Franklin, popular stage star, "and the only one that I can thoroughly endorse is Lashbrow Liquid, because it gives the desired effect of enlarging and beautifying the eyes, while at the same time it does not injure the lashes."

Thousands of girls of the "flapper" type are now using this wonderful new liquid eye make-up, because it is so easily and quickly applied, and because it dries instantly, darkening the lashes and making them appear nearly twice as long and heavy as they really are.

Unlike the old fashioned, smudgy, messy cake eye preparations, Lashbrow Liquid is absolutely waterproof. It will not run, rub off or smear even from tears or perspiration. It also contains natural oil which keeps the lashes soft and healthy, and stimulates their growth.

Try it today. Costs but a few cents and is sold by all dealers such as: Decatur Drug Co., Gardner Drug Co., I. N. Irwin Drug Co., Frankel Drug Co.

Women to attract must

Radiate Health!

BEAUTY is the magnet which draws all eyes—and back of beauty—Health—working silently. Red blood tingling through the veins;—the glow of youth in the cheeks;—the spring of eagerness, of vim, of vitality in the walk;—the over graceful air, unrestrained by care or worry.—All the charms of beauty. All the works of health.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps—wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness that is not theirs.

But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that craved for attractiveness—that beauty. Good looks is the barometer of one's condition. Good health radiates beauty. S. S. S. purifies the blood—creates new red blood cells—rids the system of impurities which make beauty and attractiveness impossible. As women to attract must radiate health so must they keep their systems free from impurities and their red blood cells ever increasing. S. S. S. does both.

S. S. S., since 1826, has been ridding the system of impurities—pimples, blackheads, boils, eczema and rheumatism—building red blood cells—aiding women to be attractive by radiating health. S. S. S. is made of carefully selected herbs and barks, scientifically prepared and proportioned. All good drug stores carry S. S. S. It is more economical to purchase the large size bottle.

BIG SMOKE, LITTLE FIRE AT PANA BLAZE

Was Confined to Tin Can in Basement.

Pana, Jan. 8— The fire department was called to the building formerly occupied by the Farmer's Friend restaurant at 10:30 o'clock on Monday morning in response to an alarm turned in at the Telephone office. When firemen entered they found the room full of smoke, the main fire seeming to come from the basement. Here they found a fire in a large tin can, evidently started to thaw pipes. The can contained a number of pine blocks. There was no damage.

The department also was called Sunday morning at 1 a. m. to extinguish a fire that originated in an automobile owned by Henry Treis on South Popular street. The fire was extinguished by chemicals at a loss of $75.

PRINCE REWARDS TWO CHAUFFEURS

Oels, Silesia—(AP)—Several bottles of French wine of an old vintage were among the gifts presented by former Crown Prince William to the two chauffeurs who accompanied him on his trip from Wieringen, Holland, to his castle at Oels in November.

The prince's wine cellar is said to be one of the finest in Germany, having been stocked with rare native and foreign wines years ago when Germans annually bought nearly a third of the French red wine output. Other members of the party were presented with stick pins, cuff links, cigarette cases and other souvenirs in appreciation of their services in aiding the prince to return to his home after an absence of nine years.

SOME WERE ABSENT.

President Coolidge is grateful for and appreciative of the indorsement given him by Republicans of our own congress district. This indorsement was the output of a meeting held here in Decatur, attended by Republicans of prominence in local political affairs, and of course these were headed by Congressman Moore.

Perhaps it is safe to assume action taken at that meeting represents fairly well the feeling of a majority of Republican voters of this district, but it was noted at the time that everybody present seemed to be pretty much of a mind.

It was wondered then how they arranged this feature. You can go out into the byways of this district and find Republicans who would have a lot to say on the other side of this question, if only they might get themselves started.

And on proper occasion some of these are what might be called self-starters. Any of us could find a half dozen of them in less than a half hour. But there was not one present at the meeting that indorsed the president.

We don't know how they happened to overlook this bet—it isn't in keeping with their usual performance. However, there has been no complaint from those present at the meeting that the wild ones were missed.

So let the indorsement stand, but as yet don't count everybody in the election returns.

NO TIME FOR SIDE SHOW.

Governor General Wood sends word from the Philippines that he "welcomes" an investigation by congress of his stewardship in that far-off corner of the world.

We are not sure that in this General Wood did all of us a dandy service. Perhaps he doesn't understand the situation here at home as well as if he were on the ground.

There is considerable work, thought to be important, for this congress to do, and in this list there is no mention of an investigation of Governor General Wood. Most of us suspect we could get along very well without this.

It would be different if congress were through with its regular and pressing program of duties and looking for something else to help fill in the time. But this isn't the situation.

If there is spare time after congress does finish its real work, and if then Governor General Wood continues to "welcome," it may be all right to accommodate him. But just now other matters are pressing.

AND THEN TELL US WHEN.

Commissioner Ruthrauff makes the suggestion that all members of the different households in town learn how to shut off the city water, and then make use of the accomplishment on real cold nights. If they will do all this, they will save themselves thousands of dollars that otherwise will have to be wasted on unappreciative plumbers.

It is a good and timely suggestion; it might have been a trifle timelier, but it is better now than six weeks hence. There will be some other winter nights of hard freezing and these will furnish an opportunity to get practice in the art of shutting off the water.

It will not do to put off this until the balmy days of next spring, for it is sure it will not get proper attention at that time.

It is a fact that money can be saved by all in the house learning to shut off the water. It is also true that probably few know just how to go about doing this. It is a simple and easy twist of the wrist, and no one should get a notion it is a formidable undertaking.

Also we would like to have Mr. Ruthrauff devise some scheme by which the head of the house or the other half will be reminded to shut off the water when the night promises very cold. It is much more difficult to remember to do it than it is to learn how.

JUST TO GET STARTED.

Everybody is invited to vote on the Bok prize peace plan, and ballots have been published in the papers.

The question is: "Do you approve the winning plan in substance?"

It is likely the vote on the proposition will be light, that is as compared with the possible total. But remember you have a chance to be heard and counted. If you fail to vote don't complain that your wishes in the matter were not considered.

Comment made by many leads to the conclusion that few are altogether satisfied with the published plan; perhaps each one who votes would make some alterations if he were permitted to rewrite the plan.

But we are not passing on the different plans that were turned in, altogether more than 20,000 of them. A select committee attended to that, and it was made up of capable members.

The question before us relates to the "substance" of the plan that was selected by the award committee as the best of the practical ones. This committee picked a plan that in its opinion stands a chance of being accepted by a majority of the people of this country, also one that can be made to work.

On the whole, one has a feeling that the prize plan is pretty good, maybe better than that. If we take it up, we shall be making progress. At least it will get things started.

Some say the plan doesn't go far enough. Well, start it on its way and let us learn about this. If it is seen it should go further, this will be done.

Some say it goes too far. We don't know just how to please; these. Probably they don't want to go at all, don't wish to make a start. One is quite sure it doesn't suit Hiram Johnson a little bit—but at the same time there is a current demonstration that Hiram is not a majority of the people of this country.

If you wish something done, it will help to vote for this plan. At least it may get us a start, and this is the big thing.

WE MAY HAVE TO MOVE.

Mark Sullivan says that in the matter of a bonus, delegates to a national convention are more likely to vote their convictions than are a good many members of congress.

If Mr. Sullivan is right in this, it is too bad and we are all out of luck. When we get a man who will stand by his convictions we can use him to bigger purpose in congress than in a national convention. It may be that in too many cases we are sending the wrong man to congress.

If the fellow who will not vote his convictions must have employment in honorable office, if he has a winning manner about him and is not to be denied, send him to the national convention and keep the other fellow for congress.

But there is more than a hint from Mr. Sullivan that this other fellow might not do any better if sent to congress. This leaves us in the nine-hole, and we don't like to think the situation is as bad as that.

If men get careless about their convictions at Washington, the chair is ready to entertain a motion to move the national capital to Decatur.

LET IT NEVER BE SAID.

State Senator O. W. Smith will not be a candidate to succeed himself, or at least that was his opinion Saturday last.

But one observes that in the reason he assigns there is much that should discourage Jesse L. Deck from entering the race.

The trouble in being state senator, as Mr. Smith sees it, is that it shoots a member's law practice all to pieces.

And it happens that this Mr. Deck has a handsome practice, one for which he has worked long and earnestly.

Mr. Deck should go around and see Mr. Smith and talk this thing over. We feel pretty sure that Mr. Deck doesn't yearn to wreck the ship of his lifetime's best labors.

It may be that Mr. Smith can tell Mr. Deck a lot about this.

And it may be that, if Mr. Deck persists after the talk with Mr. Smith, the latter will conclude that if Deck yearns to make all this sacrifice it is up to a Smith to go the pace with him.

Smith is just as much one of the Dalton boys as Deck—and they never falter. Let it never be said of one of them that he knows such a thing as quail in front of the enemy's fire.

OUR COUNTY JAIL.

Sometimes lawyers get up in court and proclaim the county jail is the "Black Hole of Calcutta."

Then along comes a grand jury, looks at the jail, and decides that it has seen worse places.

The judge on the bench doesn't know just what to make of all this, and neither do some more of us.

But the lawyers are not unanimous. There is the state's attorney; he says the jail is too good for some of them. More confusion.

Sister Mary of the Kitchen wants to feed us on prunes and more prunes, and she is supposed to know what is what in food delights as well as results.

The trouble with Democrats taking a convention all the way to San Francisco is there will be no money for food and shelter after paying the railroads.

Keep in mind this is Jackson day, a good time to start that resolution to try hard to get right in the next election.

We tempered that cold wave a little before sending it east—and anyhow it wasn't our cold wave to start with.

What a fine day was Monday! If you stick around long enough we manage to find just what you want in weather.

The poultry show is on and there are more than 500 entries to pay tall dividends on the price of an admission ticket.

When the sun shines all day and it stays below zero all day we begin to suspect they are not trifling with us.

Warrensburg called at a time when we were having a new fire of our own every forty minutes, when in fact we had a "previous engagement."

The hotels in Munich are empty, but we Democrats can hardly be expected to take our national convention that far from home.

If there was anybody among the early pioneers who didn't carry the mail, what was it Uncle Sam had against him?

The plain fact is we are hardly prepared for 20 below zero.

AFTER THE DREARY DAY.

Well, I have seen it through! A dreary day!
From dawn to dusk the skies were sullen gray,
Not once I saw the splendor of the sun,
Small joy was mine—but now the day is done,
Why did I grumble, why despise the rain?
It did not ease my burden to complain,
The task is finished, I have done my part,
But could have done it with a braver heart.

The thing I dreaded came, I knew it would;
There on my desk, confronting me, it stood,
I railed in anger, but it did not stir—
'Twould still remain had I grown angrier.
No curse would alter what I had to do,
And now 'tis finished, I have seen it through.
I did not fail, I stood and held my place,
But could have done it with a better grace.

This is what hurts at last when night comes down,
To turn and see how needless was the frown,
How needless was the anger I displayed,
How little profit by my rage was made,
This had to be, 'Tis finished, closed and filed—
Would I could say that as I worked I smiled!
The task is over, I have done my part,
But could have done it with a braver heart.

Little Benny's Notebook

I was laying on the setting room floor on my stummick reeding Life on the Spanish Main, being pritty fxcitting but kind of old fashion, and some lady came to see ma bringing a little gerl with her, being a long legged little gerl named Muriel with a tern up nose making her face look funnier than it reely was, and her mother and ma started to tawk and Muriel sat on the floor next to where I was reeding, saying, Tell me a story.

Dont know eny, I sed.

And I kepp on reeding on my stummick and she sed, Tell me a story, tell me a story, tell me a story. TROTZKY FORCED TO TAKE VACATION

Moscow, Jan. 8—(AP)—An official bulletin says the acuteness of the malady of Leon Trotzky, the Russian Soviet war minister, which resulted from an attack of influenza, and from which he had suffered since Nov. 5, makes it desirable that he immediately cease work and take absolute rest in a milder climate.

Ten Years Ago Today in Decatur

JANUARY 8, 1914.

Miss Leonora Allen, Decatur and Harristown woman, a prominent singer, appeared at the Empress theater. There was a heavy seat sale.

A. Wait, one of Decatur's largest property owners, died in Miami, Fla. He was seventy-four years old and a resident here thirty-eight years.

William "Buttsy" Dill, who has retired a year before after twenty-five years on the road for the Mueller company, returned to service and was to do special work for the Mueller people in the west.

Rev. Father Murphy of St. Patrick's church protested to the city council asking that the play "Traffic," be prohibited from showing here. It was said to be of unsavory type and had been prohibited by the Bloomington city council.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

A traveling man, walking in the railroad yards, was robbed of $80 and a gold watch.

The Mueller Mfg. Co. decided to open a branch office and stock house in New York city to be in charge of Oscar Mueller.

Directors of the country schools started in to have them improved.

Linn and Scrubbs store sent the Anna B. Milikin home a wagon load of toys.

ABOUT TOWN

BLACKSTONE, the magician, performed many interesting acts while in Decatur, but his last one just as he left Decatur, was an act of kindness which attracted the attention of others who were leaving Decatur at the same time.

Arriving at the station, Blackstone and his troupe, the same as others who intended to leave on the same train going east early Sunday morning, found that the train would be an hour and a half late.

All passengers but one understood that the train was late, and a long wait would be necessary. The one exception was a Dutch woman who was unable to understand the English language. Consequently she did not understand that the train was to be late.

As might be expected, the woman, who had a little girl with her, became excited. Each time a train appeared, even if it were a freight, she rushed out to board it. Various people tried to explain to her why her train did not appear, but it was in vain. She could not understand. As the time passed she became more and more agitated.

Seeing the woman's predicament, Blackstone, who knows a little of the Dutch language, decided to try to make the woman understand the situation. With what of the woman's language he was familiar with he did manage at last to explain to her satisfaction so she became composed. In addition he took the little girl on his lap and read to her from the funny papers, so both mother and daughter spent the rest of the necessary wait without any fear of missing their train.

MAYOR OF URBANA WANTS TO RESIGN

Urbana, Ill., Jan. 8—James Elmo Smith, mayor of Urbana for six years, tendered his resignation to the city council here Monday night. Action will be taken on the resignation Jan. 21, although a new mayor will not be named until the April election. Mr. Smith said he had no plans at present for the future.

Mr. Smith, a former professor at the University of Illinois, was noted for his "model government" administration.

The Story Of Decatur

By E. B. Hitchcock

CHAPTER 38.

DECATUR'S FIRST PAPER.

First Copy Printed in 1851, a Weekly—Old Copy, Preserved by E. R. Culver, Full of Interest.

In the spring of 1851 James Shoaff of Pekin came on a visit to Decatur. He liked the looks of things here. He went back to Pekin, packed up his printing outfit, loaded it on a wagon and brought it here. He printed the first paper ever published in Macon county June 26, 1851, calling it "The Decatur Weekly Gazette."

Imagine the enthusiasm with which a local newspaper was received by the residents of Decatur and those who lived nearby.

It was a great day when Jim Shoaff's first paper was distributed. Agents had been appointed to receive subscriptions in nearby towns, and a good list of subscribers was obtained.

AN OLD COPY.

E. R. Culver has a copy of "Shoaff's Family Gazette," dated Aug. 5, 1853, which is an interesting relic. Under the name appears this phrase: "An Independent, National Newspaper—Social, Instructive and Amusing." It was issued weekly on Friday mornings.

The subscription price was $1.50 if paid within the year and $2 if paid at the end of the year. Advertising rates were one dollar for "one square (12 lines), with an added charge of twenty-five cents after the first insertion," while "one square" cost $2.50 for three months and $4 for six months. Yearly advertising ranged from "One square renewable every 3 months, $6" to "A column, renewable every 3 months, $38."

In the issue of Aug. 5, 1853, is printed the following concerning the press, which is worthy of note even at this time:

"NEWSPAPERS.

"Perhaps no establishment is of more advantage to a community than that of a newspaper press. A newspaper in a village advances the interest of all trades, professions and callings, by drawing to its vicinity much business that would otherwise be diverted into other channels; and by giving prominence and notoriety abroad to the business capability and other advantages of such villages. The press is, as it were, the special counsel of the town wherein it is located—pleading in many instances without fee or reward, and in some instances conveying light and heat to other establishments which might otherwise 'drag their slow length along' in utter obscurity."

ABOUT CALIFORNIA.

This issue is full of California news, because of the interest of the "Forty-Niners" and their families in that section, and there is printed a long letter from Felix Spangler, writing at "Emry's Ranch, Cal., June 11, 1853." He mentions having received copies of "Shoaff's Family Gazette," giving him news of the folks back home. He mentions reading of the marriage of Thomas Rea of Decatur and Miss Mary Ann Jones of Springfield. He remarks that Decatur must be getting well supplied with stores and business houses. He thinks times must be good in Decatur, adding "Twenty dollars is a pretty good price for a steer in that section of the country," and contrasts $100 for a steer bought in California.

CRYSTAL PALACE.

"W. H. Y." writing from New York, tells of the Crystal Palace exhibition, and mentions "an Indian corn harvester by Jacob L. Ream, Mt. Pulaski," "McCormick's reaper and mower, Chicago," and "Horological cradle or Mother's Help by Alexander Edmonds, Mt. Pulaski, which has a crowd of admiring visitors around it during every hour of the day."

There is an advertisement of a store run by Henry Prather and B. H. Cassell, where were sold stoves, tin, hardware, iron and castings. English & White announced the opening of their new Grocery & Provision store. Parkinson & Eastman announced themselves as a "New Firm and New Goods," selling staple and fancy goods, ready made clothing, boots and shoes, hats, caps, bonnets, etc.

ORLANDO POWERS' STORE.

Orlando Powers was running his wholesale and retail grocery store and advertises himself as located "nearly opposite the post office" and supplied with a large stock of groceries "which were purchased on the most favorable terms and will be sold for cash at the very lowest market prices." His advertisement was dated May 27, 1853.

An insurance advertisement appears for the Kentucky Mutual Insurance company, W. J. Usrey, agent, Dr. S. T. Trowbridge, medical examiner.

"HACKS."

T. J. Wright "respectfully informs the public" that he is running semi-weekly "hacks" between Paris and Decatur, one leaving each place every Tuesday and Friday at 6 a. m., arriving at the destination Wednesday and Saturday at 6 p. m. This notice set forth that the line connected with a daily line from Terre Haute to Paris and a tri-weekly line from Decatur to Springfield. Jesse H. Elliott at the Macon House was agent for the line.

"The fourth year of Mrs. Powers' school" for girls was announced to commence the first Monday in September. She offered to teach "any of the higher English branches usually taught in academies," as well as French, drawing, water-color painting and "making wax fruit and flowers." Mrs. Powers announced that she was prepared to accommodate girls from a distance with board in her own family.

OLD SETTLER'S ESTATE.

An administrator's notice for the estate of Watts Culver was printed, signed by Jane L. Culver and I. C. Pugh. Watts Culver was the father of E. R. Culver, 141 West Green street. His mother's maiden name was Jane Louisa Williams and she was the daughter of Philip D. Williams, who built the second house in Decatur. She was born in 1824 in Pittsylvania county, Virginia.

Drs. King & Read announce their new drug store in attractive fashion. They apparently had a good stock, including all sorts of drugs, medicines, paints, oils, dye stuffs and fancy notions.

Tanner & McClurg announced that they had established a new saddlery firm in Decatur "west of the court house," and that hides would be taken in exchange for work.

STORE "ADS."

William J. Condall's stock of staple and fancy spring and summer dress goods, P. Butler's clothing store, Miss Fletcher's millinery, E. Cole's chair factory, Peake & Bro. jewelry, silver ware and fancy goods, located east of the square, William Scanlan, tailor and clothier, Samuel Woods City bakery, Taylor's cheap cash store, J. R. Gorin's general store, west of the square, and Ricketts & Jones marble shop, located seven miles northeast of town, are all announced in paid notices.

J. & L. Harrell present their compliments to the public with the information that they had recently "purchased the tavern known as the 'Social Hall,'" which they had refurnished and promised to leave nothing undone for the comfort of their guests.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

Cards of the following are printed: J. P. Boyd, attorney, with office in lower southeast room of the court house; Dr. William Dillon, with office in the back room of Drs. Roberts & Trowbridge's drug store; J. S. Post, E. M. Thorpe, A. B. Bunn, Oglesby & Wait, attorneys; William T. Stamper's grocery store; these doctors—S. Y. Baldwin, W. H. Miller, S. W. Kincaid, S. T. Trowbridge, Joseph King and A. B. Keller; F. Thorpe, watchmaker and jeweler.

TWO MILLS.

Maffitt's new flouring mill, just started by Robert Maffitt, father of the late D. A. Maffitt, and the taking over of the Decatur mills by D. L. Allen and Asa Eastman, are announced.

There are various "foreign" advertisements from Springfield, Alton, Mt. Pulaski, Taylorville and other towns.

H. E. Plant, division engineer for the Illinois Central railroad, advertised that he would pay two dollars a cord for hard wood delivered on the line of that railroad between Bloomington and "the traveled road running from Springfield to Shelbyville."

(To Be Continued.)

BUSY EAST MAIN STREET.

This picture was taken about 1853 and is the property of Miss Mattie Gorin, 345 West Prairie. It shows the store in the Powers building in the middle of the first block east of Lincoln Square, with the wall sign of the Gazette Printing Office showing on the building west of the alley, which is still standing.

ASKS $25,000 FOR BEING ARRESTED

Chicago, Jan. 8—Suit for $25,000 damages for false arrest was filed Monday in the superior court by Joseph W. Richter, of Wisconson, against Frank Meich, twenty-three year old police magistrate of Posen, Ill.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract known the world over for its healing effect on membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND NEVER SUSPECT IT

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

Sir Charles Abingdon engages Paul Harley, criminal investigator, to solve for him the mystery of constant surveillance of Sir Charles. Sir Charles asks Paul to dine with him at the Abingdon home. Sir Charles falls from his chair in a dying state. His last words are "Nicol Brinn" and "Fire-Tongue." Paul asks Nicol Brinn to explain to him the meaning of "Fire-Tongue." Brinn refuses to divulge his secret.

Harley and Phil Abingdon, daughter of Sir Charles, are made prisoners in the home of Ormuz Khan, an Orientat. Nicol Brinn rescues them and goes to tell the story of Fire-Tongue to the police.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"A strange greenish light prevailed here and directly before me I saw a flight of stone steps leading upward through a tunnel in the rock. By the light of a pocket torch which I had provided myself, I began to ascend the steps.

"I had ascended more than five hundred steps, and felt that a rest would shortly be necessary, when I reached a sort of cave, or interior platform, from which seven corridors branched out like the spokes of a wheel.

"To the damp coolness of the lower stairs an oppressive heat had now succeeded, and I became aware of a continuous roaring sound, which I found myself unable to explain.

"Attached to a belt beneath my native dress I carried a Colt revolver; and therefore, leaving my rifle and bundle in a corner of the cavern, I selected one of these corridors more or less at random, and set out to explore. This corridor proved to slope very gently upward from the platform, and I could not fail to notice that at every step the heat grew greater and greater. It became possible to discern the walls of the corridor ahead because of a sort of eerie bluish light which had now become visible.

"At a point where the heat and a sulphurous smell were almost unendurable the corridor was blocked by massive iron bars beyond which the reflection of some gigantic fire danced upon the walls of a vast cavern.

"A hundred feet beneath me was a lake of fire! That is the only way I can describe it: a seething, bubbling lake of fire. And above, where the roof of the cavern formed a natural cone, was a square section formed of massive stone blocks, and quite obviously the handiwork of man. The bars were too hot to touch, and the heat was like that of a furnace, but while I stood, peering first upward and then downward, a thing happened which I almost hesitate to describe, for it sounds like an incident from a nightmare.

"Heralded by a rumbling sound which was perceptible above the roar of the fire below, the center block in the roof slid open.

"As if conjured up by magic, a monstrous column of blue flame arose, swept up scorchingly, and licked like the tongue of a hungry dragon upon the roof of the cavern. Instantly the trap was closed again; the tongue of fire dropped back into the lake from which it had arisen on the draught of air.

"And right pas tme where I stood, rigid with horror, looking through those bars, fell a white-robed figure—whether man or woman I could not determine! Down, down into the fiery pit, a hundred feet below!

"One long-drawn, dying shriek reached my ears.

"Of my return to the place at which I had left my bundle and rifle I retain absolutely not one recollection. I was aroused from a sort of stupor of horror by the sight of a faint light moving across the platform ahead of me, as I was about to emerge from the tunnel.

"It was the light of a lantern, carried by a man who might have been the double of that yellow-robed mendicant who had first unconsciously led me to this accursed place.

"As the light of the lantern was swallowed up in the passage, I found my bundle and rifle and set out to follow the man. Four paces brought me to the foot of more steps. I walked barefooted, frequently pausing to listen. There were many carvings upon the walls, but I had no leisure to examine them.

"Contrary to my anticipations, however, there were no branches in this zigzag staircase, which communicated directly with the top of the lofty plateau. When presently I felt the fresh mountain air upon my face, I wondered why I should perceive no light ahead of me. Yet the reason was simple enough.

"Since I had passed through that strange water-gate to the City of Fire, the day had ended: it was night. And when, finding no further steps ahead of me, I passed along a level, narrow corridor for some ten paces and, looking upward, saw the stars, I was astounded.

"The yellow-robed man had disappeared and I stood alone, looking down upon that secret city which I had come so far to see.

"I found myself standing in deep undergrowth, and, pressing this gently aside, I saw a wonderful spectacle. Away to my left was a great white marble building, which I judged to be a temple; and forming a crescent before it was a miniature town, each white-walled house surrounded by a garden. It was Damascus reduced to fairy dimensions, a spectacle quite unforgetable.

"The fact which made the whole thing awesome and unreal was the presence, along the top of the temple (which, like that of Hatshepsu at Deir el-Bahari, seemed to be shown out of the living rock but was faced with white marble) of seven giant flambeaux, each surmounted by a darting tongue of blue flame!

"I was afraid to move too far from the mouth of the tunnel, but nevertheless was anxious to obtain a good view of the little city at my feet. Gingerly I moved farther forward ever craning out for a glimpse of the buildings more immediately below me, forgetful of the fact that I walked upon the brink of a precipice.

"Suddenly my outstretched foot failed to touch ground. I clutched wildly at the bushes around me. Their roots were not firm in the shallow soil, and, enveloped like some pagan god in a mass of foliage, I toppled over the cliff and fell!"

CHAPTER XXXIII.

Story of the City of Fire (Continued)

"MY awakening was as strange as anything which had befallen me. I lay upon a silken bed in a pavilion which was furnished with exquisite, if somewhat barbaric, taste.

"I was lying there, in a curious and apathetic state; when the curtains draped in the doorway were pulled more widely aside and a woman came in.

"Gentlemen, I will not endeavor to describe her, except to say that she was so darkly lovely that I doubted the evidence of my senses; tall and lithe, with the grace of some beautiful jungle creature.

"When she saw that I was awake, she paused and lowered her head in confusion. She wore a gossamer robe of sheeny golden silk, and, standing there with the light of the dawn behind her, she made a picture that I think would have driven a painter crazy.

"This is not the time nor the place for personal reminiscences. I am here for another purpose. One of those accidents which are really due to the hand of fate had precipitated me into the garden of the house of Naida, and she in her great compassion had tended me and sheltered me, keeping my presence secret from those who would have dealt with me in summary fashion, and, indeed, who were actually on the look-out for my arrival.

"Yes, so Naida informed me. To my great surprise she spoke almost perfect English, and that sort of understanding sprang up between us immediately which, in the case of a man and a beautiful woman thrown together as we were, can only terminate in one way.

"She was some sort of priestess of the temple which I had seen from the top of the cliff. What else she was I very shortly learned.

"In accordance with one of the many strange customs of the City of Fire, her personal servants, or rather slaves, were blind mutes!

"Naida, for such was her name, told me that the Brahmin, Vadi, who had acted as my guide, was one of the followers of the Prophet of Fire, to whom had been given the duty of intercepting me.

"In this way, gentlemen, I entered upon a brief period of my life at once more sweet and more bitter than any I had known. Next to that strange, invisible, prophet whose name was Fire-Tongue, Naida held unquestioned sway in this secret city. Her house was separated from the others, and she traveled to and from the temple in a covered litter. To look upon her, as upon Fire-Tongue himself, was death. Women, I learned were eligible for admission to this order, and there were initiated by Naida.

"As the days of my strange but delightful captivity wore on, I learned more and more of the weird people, who, unseen, surrounded me. There were lodges of the Cult of Fire all over the East, all having power to make initiates and some to pass disciples into the higher grades. Those who aspired to the highest rank in the order, however, were compelled to visit this secret city in the Indian hills.

"Then at last I learned a secret which Naida had for long kept back from me. These followers of the new Zoroaster were polygamists, and she was the first or chief wife of the mysterious personage known as Fire-Tongue. I gathered that others had superseded her, and her lord and master rarely visited this marble house set amid its extensive gardens.

"Her dignities remained, however, and no one had aspired to dethrone her as high priestess of the temple. She evidently knew all the secrets of the organization, and I gathered that she was indispensable to the group who controlled it.

"Respecting Fire-Tongue himself his origin, his appearance, she was resolutely silent, a second Acte, faithful to the last. That the ends of this cult were not only religious but political, she did not deny, but upon this point she was very reticent.

CLAIM LAND WHICH N. Y. CITY OCCUPIES

Seventeen Persons in Shelby Co. Want Slice.

Shelbyville, Jan. 8—Charles E. Voris of Akron, Ohio, is here to meet with the Shelby county relatives of the late Robert Edwards, who died in New York City a number of years ago. The relatives of this family will hold a meeting in Shelbyville Thursday afternoon at two o'clock for the purpose of hearing reports and discussing action to be taken in furthering their claims for a big section of the business district of New York City. The district to which they lay claim is where the Trinity church, the Woolworth building and many other large structures are located.

Mr. Voris claims that the heirs have the original copy of a ninety-year lease that was given on the tract by Robert Edwards in 1778 and that this lease expired in 1877 and has recently come to the attention to the Edwards descendants.

VALUE IN BILLIONS.

Mr. Voris says the present value of the land leased by Robert Edwards nearly 150 years ago is now up into the billions of dollars.

There are seventeen persons in Shelby county who claim to trace their lineage to Robert Edwards. Among them are W. W. Hudson, Thomas Edwards, Mrs. Bertha Jordan, Mrs. Ethel Finks, Mrs. Belle Severe, Mrs. Nora Moyer and J. R. Edwards Jr. Besides Mr. Voris there are three others in Ohio, Mrs. A. Jacoby, Mrs. L. Snyder and Mrs. M. Werts.

MEMORIAL SERVICE.

The Shelbyville Rotary club held a memorial service at their noonday luncheon Monday in memory of H. E. Chester, who was the first Rotarian to pass away. Prof. H. D. Sparks, Rev. J. Stanley Mitchell and George H. Rhoads made address, and Dr. J. H. Hite sang "Crossing the Bar." Several hymns also were sung. H. F. Chester of Champaign, J. N. and W. D. Chester of Pittsburgh, Pa., brothers of the late C. E. Chester, were present.

HENTON FUNERAL.

Funeral services for Isaiah Henton were held Tuesday forenoon at 10:30 from the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. Miller on South Fifth street, Rev. N. H. Robertson, pastor of the Christian church, conducted the services. Interment was made in Tower Hill cemetery.

Mr. Henton passed away at the Shelby County Memorial hospital Saturday evening at 5:15, where he had been a patient for about two years. He was one of Shelby county's oldest residents. He was born in Ohio in 1836, and came to Illinois in 1854. In March of 1855 he was united in marriage to Susan A. Freshwater, daughter of David and Mohlah Freshwater of Northern Shelby county, who died in 1901.

SIX CHILDREN.

To this union were born six children all of whom survive. They are, Mrs. W. H. Dowis, Mrs. E. Miller, Mrs. E. H. Downs all of Shelbyville, Mrs. W. A. Oaks of Assumption, John E. Henton of Decatur and H. Benne Henton of Philadelphia, Pa.

Mr. Henton was married again to Mary Jane Henton Wilson of Moultrie county who also survives.

Mr. Henton was a very sincere and deeply religious man, a member of the Christian church. For a good many years he lived in Henton, that village being named for him. He invented the first riding cultivator. Mr. Henton was one of the jurymen on the celebrated Thornton murder trial years ago.

WEEK OF PRAYER.

Changing pulpits of the ministers of the local churches was the first step in observing the week of prayer in this city. The change Sunday evening was as follows: Rev. P. B. Madden at the Presbyterian church; Rev. G. P. Burdon at the Christian church; Rev. Mr. Taylor at the Baptist church; Rev. J. S. Mitchell at the Methodist church, and Rev. N. H. Robertson at the Free Methodist church. It was decided to hold all services this week as union services, and the local pastors to be in charge each evening. Monday night the services were held at the Free Methodist church, with the Rotary Club as guests of honor; Tuesday night at the Baptist church, with all official boards of Shelbyville churches as guests of honor; Wednesday night at the Presbyterian church with the Chamber of Commerce, the city council and all city officials and the fire department as guests of honor; Thursday night at the Methodist church with the High school students as guests of honor, and Friday night at the Christian church with Sparks College as guests of honor.

MRS. MERCER DIES.

Mrs. Emmett Mercer passed away Monday morning at her home on North Chestnut street at 10:15 o'clock. Her illness extended over a period of one week. Mrs. Mercer was born in Rose township in 1871, and was the daughter of John and Lottie Cox. In November of 1892 she was united in marriage to Emmett Mercer. To this union five children were born. One died in infancy. The surviving children are Bruce Mercer, Rose township, Lois Mercer living at home, Mrs. Clarence Kull, Rose township, Marcus Mercer at home. Mrs. Mercer also is survived by three sisters and one brother, Mrs. Sallie Platter, Virden, Miss Alta Cox, Shelbyville, Mrs. Carrie Culberson, Tower Hill, Wesley Cox, Windsor, Mo. The husband, Emmett Mercer, also survives. Mrs. Mercer had spent the entire life in this vicinity with the exception of two years spent in Colorado. Funeral services will be held from the Baptist church Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. Interment will be made in Glenwood.

SOON TO MARRY.

Mrs. D. C. Fox gave a novelty shower for Miss Maurine Parrish at her home on South Broadway Saturday night. Miss Parrish is soon to be a bride. Twenty-five were present. The color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the decorations and in the luncheon. The evening was spent in playing bridge.

EXPLAINS MAROA POSITION ON PAVING

Mayor J. Earl Sigler Issues Statement.

J. Earl Sigler, mayor of Maroa in a signed statement to The Review explains the Maroa administration's attitude toward the pavement of the I. T. S. tracks through that city. His statement follows:

FALSE STATEMENTS.

"So many false and erroneous statements have recently been made in the newspapers regarding the motives of the board of local improvements and members of the city council of Maroa in insisting that the Illinois Traction Company pave its right of way on Wood street with a suitable and durable material, that I feel called upon to make a true statement of the facts in the matter.

"At the outset I wish to say that so far as the members of the board of local improvements are personally concerned they do not care whether the right of way is paved with cinders, concrete or what not, provided the people and property owners themselves are satisfied. As officials of the city, charged with the duty of looking after the interests of the city, the board members do feel, however, that the traction company should be willing to pave with a material that will give reasonable promise of being durable and satisfactory, especially in view of the fact that this is one of the solemn engagements of the company under its franchise.

BRICK OR CONCRETE.

"The members of the board of local improvements, which besides myself consists of Aldermon Charles J. Spooner and Carter H. Wilkey, have given much time to investigating the suitability of different types of paving, and have had repeated consultations with engineers of the Illinois division of highways and other hard road experts on this subject, and they have invariably advised us that the only satisfactory kind of paving material for the railroad right of way is either brick or concrete; that any other kind will prove to be only a constant source of annoyance and expense.

"District State Engineer F. C. Feutz of Paris, Ill., who was in Maroa several times during the Wood street paving construction and is familiar with the situation here, was emphatic in his statements that any kind of pavement except brick or concrete will be a makeshift and a cause for everlasting regret. He cited the experience of Westville, Ridge Farm and Georgetown, in Vermilion county, where crushed rock and an asphalt or tarvia binder was used in paving the interurban right of way.

WILL REGRET ROCK.

"In those towns the right of way is in a constant state of disrepair, due solely to the kind of paving material that was permitted to be used. Even in the case of Monticello, of which we have heard so much recently, the engineer in charge of the work there advised me that we in Maroa should by all means insist on either brick or concrete construction for the interurban right of way. From this we may infer that it is likely the city of Monticello will soon see the day when it will regret compromising on crushed rock and an asphalt binder.

"We are not engineers or paving experts, so prudence and a regard for the interests of the city and the property owners have influenced us to rely on the opinions of those who have made a technical study of hard road building and have had experience along this line. We base our position on advice from these sources and not on the advice of those who know nothing of the subject-matter, or who are prompted by malice or selfishness in striving to make it appear to the public that the board of local improvements is opposing a compromise with the interurban company simply from motives of obstinacy.

TO PROTECT CITY.

"It should therefore not be surprising if the members of the board of local improvements have lost patience with those who are constantly trying to play into the hands of the traction company and thus sacrifice the interests of the city by giving out the impression that the people of Maroa want a compromise, but that the board of local improvements is unreasonably and perversely opposed to a settlement, when as a matter of fact the sole aim of the board has been to insist on a pavement that will give no occasion for future criticism or dissatisfaction, so far as this is possible.

"That the position of the board of local improvements is approved by the city council was shown at a special meeting of that body held Friday evening, when the council went on record opposing a makeshift pavement and sustaining the stand of the board. Following that action of the council the mayor appointed a special committee consisting of D. M. Dewhirst and B. F. Caplinger, neither of whom is a member of the board of local improvements, to take up the matter of the right of way paving, learn the real sentiment of the property owners along Wood street, and, if deemed advisable by the committee, to determine what the traction company is willing to offer in the way of a satisfactory and durable pavement. So far the traction company has shown no disposition to meet the city even half way. It has been either noncommittal or, so far as the council is aware, expressly adverse to any kind of pavement at all—except cinders, gravel or crushed rock.

PEOPLE RULE.

"Certainly, the members of the board of local improvements have no interest in the matter except as citizens and officials. They have been actuated only by motives of duty and a due deference to the wishes of the people and property owners, and if the people and property owners are willing to have the right of way of the traction company paved with what the engineers of the state term a makeshift, well and good. The board of local improvements is weary of being accused of perversity and obstinacy by the very ones whose interests the board has been trying to serve—weary of being made the object of criticism and abuse from those whose battles the board has been endeavoring to fight as against an outside corporation whose attitude in the matter is wholly and perhaps pardonably selfish.

"The statement has been made that what the people want is "results and not litigation." Perhaps the author of this statement may be able to suggest just how "results" may be obtained without litigation from a corporation which, through its attorney, said at the very inception of the Wood street improvement, without offering a single constructive suggestion or measure of compromise: "We are going to fight this project, and fight it to finish," and which has been living up to the spirit of this threat ever since.

WANT CONTROVERSY ENDED.

"The board of local improvements is more anxious than anyone else to see this controversy ended, no matter what critics may say, and if the people want the city to accept anything the traction company may see fit to offer, all in order to escape litigation, it is to be hoped that the city will achieve its much desired 'results' even though it gets nothing but a poor makeshift for a pavement.

"Our attention has also been called to the public assertion that in the matter of the paving provisions of the franchise ordinance the city's power has been largely shorn by the act creating the public utilities commission. In reply to this we have simply to say that the city prefers in legal matters to rely on its attorneys, and not on the gratuitous advice of irresponsible and ill-advised laymen."

DEATHS.

MRS. SARAH JANE KITCH.

Mrs. Sarah Jane Kitch, widow of Solomon G. Kitch, died at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary F. Martin, 251 East Central avenue. She would have been eighty-eight years old in March. Her death was due to the infirmities of age. She had been failing for a long time.

Mrs. Kitch was born in Savage, Md., March 27, 1835. She and Solomon G. Kitch were married on her birthday anniversary, March 27, 1855, in Lancaster, Pa., and they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, March 27, 1905.

Mrs. Kitch was a member of the Christian church in Niantic. Of the twelve children born to her, only two survive. They are Mrs. Mary F. Martin and Ben S. Kitch, both of Decatur. There are seven grandchildren and fourteen great grandchildren and one great great grandchild.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Monson chapel. The burial will be in Greenwood cemetery.

MRS. IDA BELLE WILLIAMS.

Mrs. Ida Belle Williams, widow of Charles H. Williams, died about 6:30 o'clock Tuesday morning at her home, 804 West Leafland avenue. She would have been sixty-five years old in April. Her death was caused by heart trouble after a long illness.

FROM THE PEOPLE

Millikin, Millard and Freshman Rule

Decatur, Ill., Jan. 7, 1924.

Editor Review:

Dear Sir—"Vox Pop-ping" appeals to me upon many, if not most occasions as a very light occupation, but there arise conditions which seem to have no other method of answering. I refer to a communication printed in your paper Sunday, from George M. Proctor relative to his views on the bias of one, Mr. Millard, sports editor of The Review. As it happens, Mr. Proctor and myself both received degrees from Millikin, and without any reservations whatever, I grant that his interest in our Alma Mater is as deep and sincere as my own. It is with no intention of engaging in controversy with him that I take this means to state that it seems to me and many other graduates of the Blue and White institution that Mr. Proctor has done Mr. Millard an injustice in the charges and insinuations contained in his letter.

Mr. Proctor makes six points in his letter; that Mr. Millard is a Wesleyan graduate; that Wesleyan is not a member of the Mid-West conference; that ipso facto, a Millikin graduate thinks differently than a Wesleyan product; that George would rather meet Yale or Dartmouth or other schools of high standing, and take chances of success than meet our peers in our own bailwick; that any average youth from high school who desires to use the training in athletics which is his right, would not make a good prospect for Millikin; that there can be no fairness in Mr. Millard just because he happened to have his degree from some other institution than Millikin.

Might we as well say that by the same process of reasoning it would go rather hard with some of our leading citizens who have somehow or other managed to assume prominent roles in civic and business affairs.

As an observer and not a casual one either, of the writings and attitude of the sports editor of The Review, I have yet to see anything but the fairest sense of appreciation for Millikin, in all her activities. Moreover, discounting that natural and hard-to-submerge spirit of loyalty for one's own college, Mr. Millard has gone the limit in assisting to place Millikin in the proper light before Decatur citizens and readers of The Review.

While not seeking to enter into any argument regarding the merits of remaining in or dropping out of the Mid-West Conference, it does seem a bit like a small boy trying to smoke one of dad's cigars and get away with it for a young institution, as we must admit Millikin is, to remain in an association so far out of our natural circle. An open mind in such matters is greatly to be desired and commended. Sad as it may seem, the opponents to a broader sphere of action for Millikin athletics seem to have minds which open but one way. They fail to see that, in place of broadening Millikin's sphere as a college by making the most of our advantages in our natural and logical college conference, that sphere is being narrow by restricting our actions to those of other institutions, which by age, endowment, yes, even prestige, are far more able to conduct themselves as they desire.

During the years I was privileged to be in Millikin, many opportunities were afforded me to witness the processes of thought of our neighboring institution, Wesleyan. On the baseball field, in the fraternity chapter hall, on the debating platform and in other activities of college life, I had first hand contact with many Wesleyan students, one of whom was the self same Mr. Millard. Possibly my less delicate nature failed to react properly, but I fail to have any memories of a greatly varied method to thought and action in those fine fellows than were observed in my own college mates. Even since that time, I have been privileged to have contact with a few of the diploma holders of Wesleyan, and to me they seem about as normal and natural a bunch as any Illinois or Yale or Harvard or Amherst or even Millikin graduates.

Let it be understood that I have the highest respect for the manner in which Millikin faculty members are trying to meet the situations which arise. Their interest and specialized knowledge is far better equipment to use than my rather detached but none the less keen desire to see my stock certificate in the institution, which is what my diploma is, go above par and remain there. The whole matter is deeper than anyone's resentment at the manner in which anyone else presents his sincere and possibly better informed view of the effects of remaining in a conference which is so far detached from Millikin's own logical association, that it is merely incidental.

Before seeking new world's to conquer, or in which we have the percentage well against us of being conquered consistantly, would it not be well to make the most of the opportunities right before us, and develop them to a markedly higher degree than they now are developed. Our task will be large enough for some time, with those limits.

Sincerely,
ROBERT B. IRWIN, JR.

Don't Spoil Your Child's Hair By Washing It

When you wash children's hair be careful what you use. Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It is inexpensive and beats anything else all to pieces.

Two or three teaspoonfuls is all that is required. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which cleases thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to manage. Besides, it loosems and inkes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any drug store, and a few ounces will last for months.

SAYS THRIFT WAS ROAD TO SUCCESS

Dr. Chesteen Smith Discusses Ben Franklin.

Rev. Chesteen Smith gave a most interesting talk Monday afternoon on the "Life of Benjamin Franklin" at the meeting of the Woman's Council held in the Y. W. C. A. building.

"Franklin was born 222 years ago today" said the speaker, "and we always think of him as the man who taught us thrift." He spoke of his courage, grit, conservation of strength. He was a master thinker. Franklin often said "his one royal road to success was Thrift."

Benjamin Franklin was instrumental in the founding of the University of Pennsylvania, in the founding of the first hospital there, the street lighting system, the first heating system. The city of Philadelphia sent him to England to serve as the first diplomat. Franklin never asked for a position but never refused to accept a post of service when asked by a higher authority. He had little desire to make money out of his inventions, his aim was to help others. He died at the age of eighty-four, but it is said that he did his best work after the age of seventy.

CANNED CORN.

Canned vegetables soon lose their appeal if served too often "au naturel." There are many made vegetable dishes that are delicious and nourishing for cold weather.

In serving a made dish keep in mind that the "makings" increase the food value but decrease the digestibility. The combination of ingredients is more slowly digested than the same ingredients served simply. For instance, soft boiled eggs are more quickly and easily digested than a souffle.

So a "made" dish of vegetables should be served as the main luncheon dish or with a light meat course for dinner.

Canned corn lends itself to appetizing dishes. Corn fritters, corn croquettes, corn souffle, corn soup and corn pudding are almost as good made with canned corn as with fresh.

Any canned vegetable is improved if a little sugar is added with the salt when seasoning to serve. Much of the natural sweetness of the vegetable is lost and the sugar is needed to bring out the flavor. From one-half to one teaspon of sugar for a pint of vegetables is a good rule.

CORN AND PIMENTO TIMBALES.

One pint can corn, 1 small can pimentos, 1 tablespoon cream, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 tablespoons canned tomatoes, 1/4 teaspoon minced onion, 2 eggs, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon sugar, few grains pepper.

Rub corn, pimentoes and tomatoes through a fine colander. Add onion, sugar, salt and pepper, cream and butter. Heat to melt butter and add yolks of eggs beaten until thick and lemon colored. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and dry and fold into mixture. Turn into well-buttered custard cups of timbales and set in a pan of hot water. Cover with buttered paper and bake 25 or 30 minutes in a hot oven. The timbales should be firm to the touch when done. Turn out of the cups onto a hot platter and garnish with parsley.

LUNCHEON CORN ON TOAST

Eight thin slices bacon, 1 pint can of corn, 4 tablespoons milk, 1/4 teaspoon butter, 4 tablespoons cream, eggs.

Cut each slice of bacon into four or six pieces and fry until slightly brown and crisp. Add corn, salt and pepper and milk if the corn was solid in the can. When very hot add the eggs and stir rapidly with a fork. When the eggs are "set" pour over hot buttered toast and serve immediately.

This makes a good Sunday night supper dish. Serve with brown bread and butter, pickles, radishes or olives.

CORN CROQUETTES

One pint can of corn, 2 tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons cream, 1-3 cup flour, 1/8 teaspoon sugar, 1/8 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon paprika, eggs, fine dried bread or cracker crumbs.

Add butter and cream to corn. Mix flour, sugar, salt and pepper and sift into first mixture. Add one egg slightly beaten, and cook, stirring constantly until thick. Spread on a buttered platter and let stand until cool. When cold gently mold into small balls or cylinders, dip in crumbs then in egg slightly beaten with one tablespoon milk, roll again in crumbs and drop into deep hot fat. Drain on brown paper and serve very hot. The fat should be hot enough to brown an inch cube of bread from the soft part of the loaf in 40 seconds.

SCALLOPED CORN

Two tablespoons butter, 1 small green pepper (optional), 1/2 medium-sized onion, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspon paprika, 1/8 teaspoon mustard, 1/2 cup milk, 1 cup canned corn, 1 egg yolk (optional).

Melt butter, add pepper cut in tiny strips with the seeds removed and cook five minutes. Add onion finely minced and cook two minutes longer, stirring constantly. Add flour and seasoning and mix well. When smooth add milk, stirring constantly and bring to the boiling point. If eggs are plentiful, beat the yolks until thick. Add corn to sauce, remove from the fire and stir in the egg yolk. Turn into a well-buttered baking dish, cover with buttered crumbs and bake in a moderate oven until the top is browned.

Use Lemons to Whiten Skin

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear youthful skin and rosy-white complexion also to soothe red, rough or chapped hands and face. You must mix this remarkable bleach yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

AN OPEN LETTER TO WOMEN

Tells of Mrs. Vogel's Terrible Suffering and how she was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Detroit, Michigan.—"My troubles were severe pains in my back and terrible bearing-down pains in my right side, also headaches and sleepless nights. I first began having troubles when I was 15, and they have increased as I grew older. A little booklet was left at my door, and I read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women and decided to try it. After the first week I could go to sleep every night and I stopped having that nervous feeling and got a better appetite. The doctor had always said that an operation was the only thing that would help me, but I never had any faith in an operation. Since the Vegetable Compound has started helping me I do not suffer the severe pains, feel stronger, and am able to do my own work. I am more than glad to tell my friends that it helps where other medicines have failed." —Mrs. Gus Vogel, 6608 Pelouze St., Detroit, Michigan.

A record of fifty years service must convince women of the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
By Olive Roberts Barton

The Missing Balloons.

"Why, you're not the two little boys I gave my balloons to."

Nancy and Nick and Tom Tinker hurried down Broom street past Wheelbarrow lane on down past Jack's new house and the Pieman's shop, and pretty soon they came to the place where the street melted away, you might say, into a sort of big field.

And honestly, it did seem as though the whole world was there to see the circus come in. Certainly nearly everybody in Daddy Gander Land, except the mothers who were trying to get the housework done up so everybody could go to the performance in the afternoon. And, oh, yes, the daddies who were busily working to make enough money to sent their families to the performance in the afternoon.

Great golden wagons with marvelous pictures painted on the sides went rumpity, rump, thumpity, thump! over the bumpy places, teams of black and white horses were being unhitched and fed away to be fed, lemonade stands were being set up, and side-shows with pictures that would take your breath away almost, were getting fixed up. The sword-swallower and snake-charmer and knife-thrower and the fat lady and living skeleton and tattooed man were to be in them.

And above all was the delightful terrifying roar of the lions, and all sorts of sounds you could hear, but not see—I mean see what they were coming from. But the elephants were right out in plain view. Nobody could hide them, or the camels, or the last yard and a half of the giraffes, which stuck up and out of their cages like church steeples. Really it was almost as good as being inside the big tent, and there was so much to see it was no wonder that the three children forgot about the lost Tweedles, Dum and Dee, for a minute or two.

Indeed it was quite by accident that they remembered. It was this way. A balloon-man took Nick and Tom by the shoulders. "Say, there, you two. Where did you put my two bunches of balloons? Have you lost them or sold out?"

"Lost!" Their errand popped into their heads at the word, and the thought of poor Missez Tweedle at home worrying.

"Why, you're not the two little boys I gave my balloons to, to hold for me!" exclaimed the balloon-man in surprise. "I beg your pardon. I wonder where those two little fellows went? One had on a red stocking-leg cap and the other had on a blue stocking-leg cap. Did you see them?"

"Why, we are hunting for them, too!" cried Nancy. "They're wanted at home."

"Well, well, well!" said the balloon-man. "I gave each of them a big bunch of balloons and I'll have to have them back pretty soon. What do you say if we all go and hunt? Come along! They can't be far away!"

A PUZZLE A DAY

A man had a heavy chain of ten links which weighed five pounds. The links, from the top of the chain to the bottom, were capable of bearing the following weights: One, 250 lb.; two, 239 lb.; three to nine, each 250 lb.; ten, 238 lb. How great a weight could be hung from the chain without breaking it? This is a puzzle that sheds a new light on the old axiom, "A chain is as strong as its weakest link."

Yesterday's Answer.

The original label on the box stated "HANDLE WITH CARE." The new label "IT CAN WHEEL HARD" contains the very same 14 letters, in different order.

BERLIN BABIES ARE GIVEN ODD NAMES

Berlin—(AP)—Berlin's crop of foundlings, particularly plentiful just now, will have a strange lot of names when they grow up.

At a loss for names for the youngsters and desiring to show some originality, the heads of Berlin's largest orphan asylum revived the old idea of naming foundlings for the street or the district in which they were abandoned. A baby boy discovered recently tucked into a basket in Alexander Platz was given that name exactly, and a baby girl picked up on a door step in Charlotten street was christened Charlotte Strasse. One boy inherited the name of Unter den Linden, Berlin's best known thoroughfare, and another that of Koenigs Allee, allee being the German for a wide street or avenue.

Majors Turn Attention Toward Pitching Staffs

Giants, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Others Bid for Star.

BY JOHN B. FOSTER.

(Copyright 1924.)

New York, Jan. 8—Dean, the best pitcher of the Louisville baseball club, has been transferred to the New York Nationals. The Giants entered the fight for him and outbid their New York rivals, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, St. Louis and perhaps two other teams that had been in a receptive mood for Dean but had not come up to the price Louisville asked.

The Giants realize what Moran is doing at Cincinnati to improve his pitching staff. Pittsburgh is also cognizant of the Cincinnati forward move for the pennant. The Pirates have taken on Kremer, a pitcher from Oakland, and they are banking on better work from their old staff, than it turned in in 1923.

TIDE WILL TURN.

There is an impression that the tide is about to turn in baseball, and that smart pitching will be bigger factor in winning a pennant than it has been since 1919. This impression was strengthened by the work of the New York pitching staff in 1923. Its super-excellence showed that the pitcher cannot be overlooked and discredited by the presumable power of batters who run up high individual records.

Dean and Combs of Louisville were held at $150,000 at the time of the big baseball meeting in Chicago. As ballplayers have been going in the market, the managing heads of the Louisville club figured each players would be worth $75,000 to the club that got him. Dean pitches and Combs plays the outfield and is one of the best batters in the American Association. He is only a fair outfielder because of shortness in throwing power.

PROBABLY RIGHT.

When the American Association decided to go into the modified draft plan, Louisville felt that it had been shaved down $50,000 in the value put on its two best players, and probably was right. The moment the draft permitted an exchange of players from major to class AA leagues, it put a crimp in high prices, because if Louisville did not wish to sell or borrow players, principally borrow, there were other clubs that would, and naturally the club that would help the major out by borrowing would get the favors.

The Giants are reported to have paid $50,000 in cash and will give players enough to make the price of Dean $50,000. That is about twice what other clubs were willing to give, and shows how ready the Giants are to strike home when they start in quest of something they need.

WOULD GO LIMIT.

When it was learned that the Giants had entered the bidding it was predicted they would sidetrack every one else, because if the player was esteemed to be worth having the Giants would run all clubs out of the competition, exactly as they have pushed them out of the way in the past.

O'Connell and Bentley are both examples of players secured by New York by riding the opposition to a fall. The opportunity for Dean in the National League is great. The Giants haven't a pitcher who can be called a star on the strength of his 1923 work, and yet the combination of pitching that was maneuvered by McGraw held the team through the fight. If Dean can become a leader, he will inspire Ryan and until Nehf breaks down positively there is no one that will believe he is through.

Syracuse Captain.

ROY SIMMONS.

Next year's Syracuse football eleven will be under the leadership of Roy Simmons, who starred on the 1923 team at quarterback. Chick Meehan, Syracuse coach, says Simmons is the best quarterback he has seen in his days as coach.

FIRPO TO MEET TOUGH BOXERS

Argentine Determined to Prove He Is Dempsey's Equal.

BY FAIR PLAY.

(Copyright, 1924)

New York, Jan. 8—Tex Rickard said today that he hopes Firpo would pick out some redoubtable opponents when he arrived in the United States next month. He doesn't believe that either Farmer Lodge, or Ermino Spalla will give Luis the sort of practice he needs to fit him for Dempsey.

But if you take Hugh Gartland's word Rickard will have no cause for complaint over the sort of opponents Luis will encounter in this country. Just before he sailed for Buenos Aires on Saturday Gartland said that plans for making Firpo's American visit a thrilling one were progressing nicely.

"No one," he said, "is going to be barred from meeting Firpo when he comes here. The more and the better they come the merrier. Some very interesting arrangements for bouts, about which I care to say nothing just now, are on foot. When they have been carried out the public will know whether or not Firpo is the logical man to meet Dempsey for his title."

MASCART AND DUNDEE.

French pugilistic prestige will be adequately upheld if Gene Mascart comes over here to meet Johnny Dundee, according to Augie Ratner who has just returned from Europe. Mascart's appearance here as opponent to the feather champion is contingent upon his beating Charley Ledoux, but Ratner says that this will be an easy accomplishment.

Dundee, says Ratner, will have to be at the top of his form if he expects to retain his title against the attack of the new French fury.

TAKES BAD SLUMP.

Talk of a Benny Leonard-Mickey Walker battle has taken a bad slump since Mickey's manager announced a list of welters whom Walker might meet in the next year or so. Bulger didn't say so but he gave the impression that if Walker fights at all it will be against men in his own class. No great interest in forthcoming matches in this division has been aroused by the statement of Walker's manager. Public demand so far as the welter championship is considered will be for a Leonard bout or nothing.

PUNCHING HARD ON THE PUGS

Records Enlarged One By Entrance of Miske's Name.

BY JOE WILLIAMS.

So you read where Jack Dempsey was paid $700,000 for two fights last summer—

And you think that is a pretty soft way to make money—

A lot easier than running a freight elevator, or driving rivets in a boiler factory, you say?

Billy Miske thought that way, too.

DEAD AT 29.

Now Miske is dead at 29. A widow and three children mourn him. A fistic world that paid thousands to see him fight, gamely if not brilliantly, during his 10-year career, shrugs a sympathetic shoulder. "Well, he could take it, anyway."

Miske could take it. That's what killed him. Bright's disease, brought about by excessive body punishment. Miske was not a great defensive fighter at close quarters. It was not hard to reach his vital spots.

Three times he fought Dempsey. Twice he went the limit with the great slugger. The third time he was battered to the canvas. Dempsey punished him cruelly with what is known as the kidney punch. So did other fighters for that matter.

MANY FIGHTERS BLINDED.

Few fighters are killed outright in the ring. Now and then a fatality occurs. A punch from Jess Willard killed Bull Young. A punch from Arthur Pelkey killed Luther McCarthy. Others have been killed by wicked blows. But the percentage is small in comparison to the number of fights. It is later on in life that the frightful effects of hand to hand fighting take hold.

LEADING SPORT CAUSE.

Fighting has blinded more men than all other forms of sport combined. Some have lost their vision completely, others have suffered a partial blindness that reduced them to an almost helpless state.

Pete Herman, former bantamweight champion of the world, is a recent and pathetic example. His fellow townsman, Joe Mandot, once a great lightweight, is another. Monte Attell, now on the coast, needs a cane and a guide. And these are but a few.

OTHERS LOSE MINDS.

Blindness is not the only penalty the battered-up fighter is compelled to pay. Nature, outraged, is unrelenting in her tolls. A severe walloping about the head is not calculated to improve one's sanity. Repeated walloping often destroys it completely.

You read much of "cuckoo fighters," fighters who have literally been punched silly. There are many of them. Some end their days in asylums, impersonating the Marquis of Queensberry himself.

No, the business of fighting is not an easy game. The money is easy but in the end you pay for it—and pay frightfully.

Stick to your freight elevator, or your job in the boiler factory—

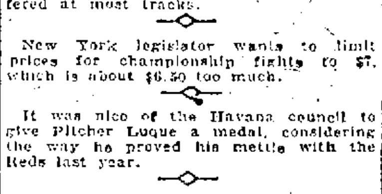

Possibly, you won't become rich or famous, but you will live longer.

CORD LIPE OUT OF GAME FOR MONTH

Illinois Guard, Decatur Boy, Pulls Tendon.

Urbana, Ill., Jan. 8—Cord Lipe, veteran guard on the University of Illinois basketball team, pulled a tendon in his heel Monday and will be out of the game for at least a month.

Coach Craig Ruby set Monday afternoon to prepare his squad for one of its hardest trips this season, starting Saturday when the Illini meet Ohio at Columbus, and going on to Ann Arbor to play Michigan Monday night. Curt. Parker, substitute guard last season, and Earl Britton and Ted Haines, sophomores, are being groomed for Lipe's position.

BROTHER IS CAPTAIN.

Urbana, Ill., Jan. 7—Kenneth Lipe of Decatur was Monday night elected captain of the Illinois freshman varsity basketball team. Lipe is a forward, and a brother of Cord Lipe, varsity guard. He played under Ralph Jones, former Illinois basketball coach, before coming to Illinois.

GIBBONS PREPARES FOR TITLE BATTLE

St. Paul Heavy Expects Dempsey Fight.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 8—Confident that negotiations for another bout with Jack Dempsey will be successful, Tommy Gibbons said today he plans to get an early start in conditioning himself.

Gibbons now is in fairly good shape he said, weighing close to 195 pounds or about 15 pounds more than when he fought Dempsey at Shelby Mont. July 4, staying the full fifteen rounds but losing the decision.

Word that a second bout is in sight was received by Gibbons yesterday in a letter from his manager.

Gibbons is taking road work outs each day and going on hunting trips.

MICHIGAN AGGS TO BROADCAST GAME

East Lansing, Mich., Jan. 8—The possibility of broadcasting a running account of a basketball game is being investigated by athletic authorities at Michigan agricultural college and it is probable that an attempt will be made o sent a play-by-play report into the air the night of Jan. 18, when the University of Detroit quintet plays the Aggies here. Radio fans of the state will be the judges of the success of the experiment, and upon the reception given the report by them, will depend whether the broadcasting shall be repeated.

SPORT BRIEFS.

Macon Ga.—W. L. (Young) Stribling, school boy boxer, was suspended from high school because of too many absences.

Columbus—Tut Jackson of Washington Court House won in the sixth round on a foul by Jack Taylor of Omaha. They are negro heavy weights.

Detroit—Clarence Rosen, Bay City, Mich., defeated Patsy Wallace of Philadelphia, in ten rounds. They are fly weights.

New York—More colleges than ever before may participate in the next regatta of the intercollegiate rowing association which is to be rowed on the historic Ste on the Hudson off Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 17. Wisconsin is among those to be invited.

Kansas City—Kansas City will be limited to three entries in the national A. A. U. basketball championship tournament here the week of March 10.

Cleveland—One of the largest golf courses in America is planned by the Cedarhurst Country club, Inc., Cleveland, first golf club developed on a "pay as you go" system. A 54 hole course is intended.

YANKS TO TRADE VETERAN SMITH

New York, Jan. 8—Elmer Smith, substitute outfielder, will be one of the two players the New York Yankees will give in part payment for Earle Combs, star outfielder of the Louisville club of the American Association, it was announced Monday by Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the world's champs.

A substantial cash consideration, making Combs' purchase price the equivalent of $50,000, also is involved in the deal, but Col. Ruppert declined to make the figure public.

COMES AS SURPRISE.

The passing of Smith to the minors came as a surprise. He came to the Yankees from the Boston Red Sox in 1922, in the deal which also brought Joe Dugan, star third baseman to New York.

Last season he starred as a pinch hitter for the Yankees, his batting for seventy games being .306.

RECORD SALES.

Chicago, Jan. 6—The reported price of $50,000 paid to Louisville by the New York Giants for Pitcher Mayland Dean, and a similar amount from the New York Yankees for Outfielder Earl Combs, breaks all records for American Association baseball players sales. It also marked the first real break in the ranks of the association on the draft question, as the major league players to be sent down in return are the first to be accepted in the association under draft recall provisions adopted at the baseball convention here last month by the big minors.

FIVE PLAYERS ARE SIGNED BY CARDS

St. Louis, Jan. 8—Five players have been added to the St. Louis Cardinals' National league squad, it was announced Monday. Two of the five men have been with Cardinals before. One is Ernie Vick, former baseball and football star at Michigan, and the other is Wattis Holm, from Iowa State university.

The three players who have not been up before, are Shortstop Tom Thevenow and the pitchers, Fred Frankhouse and Lloyd Smith, all turned over to the Cardinals by Syracuse.

HOME RUN PUTS FOWLER ON SQUAD

Cincinnati, Jan. 8—A home run by Chester Fowler, which won a game from New York last fall, assured his retention as utility infielder of the Cincinnati Reds of 1924. The blow resulted in Fowler replacing Kimmick, who recently was sent to Vernon as a part of the deal which brought Pitcher Jakie May to Cincinnati.

Matches have not been made, but Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul heavyweight, and his brother, Mike, have offered their services.

POSTPONE MADDEN AND WILLS FIGHT

New York, Jan. 8—The twelve round match between Harry Wills, negro heavyweight title contender, and Bartley Madden, of New York, at Newark, N. J., has been postponed from Jan. 28, to Feb. 4, it was announced Monday night.

BATTLING SIKI AT LAST WINS FIGHT

Buffalo, Jan. 8—Battling Siki knocked out Tony Stabenau, local heavyweight, in the second round of a scheduled 10-round bout here Monday night. Stabenau was down for the count of nine three times in the first round. The knockout came in the first minute of the second round.

Billy Evans SAYS

Why are so few pitchers good batsmen? Glance over the swat averages of any league and you will find that a great majority of the last 40 players in the ranking are pitchers. It would seem that a pitcher who is familiar with the manner in which the various deceptive deliveries are thrown would have an edge when he came to the bat. However, the knowledge that all pitchers posess of how the ball breaks is of no advantage, rather it seems to work as a handicap.

Occasionally you will find some star pitcher who is equally effective at the bat. Bush of the New York-Americans is such a type pitcher. Joe is a double-threat player—as they say in football.

Throughout the American League season rival pitchers work as carefully on Bush as they do Babe Ruth. Joe takes a healthy swing like the Babe and while he strikes out often he breaks up many a ball game through his ability to hit. In the recent world series with the Giants no player on the Yankee team took more liberties with McGraw's pitchers than Bush. It was Bush who Manager Huggins selected to step to the plate in the pinch in the memorable sixth game that decided the series. The bases were filled at the time. Bush received a base on balls. Some compliment to Bush from every angle.

"It's the mental attitude of the pitcher that makes most of them poor hitters." That is the explanation offered by Joe Bush, who can hit as well as pitch.

"Most pitchers are of the opinion that no one expects them to hit the ball," says Bush. "Because of that feeling they do not enter into batting practice with the same zest as the rest of the players. With the pitcher it is a mere formality, a custom of baseball. When the pitcher steps to the plate in a regular game he never feels that it is up to him to come through with a base hit. Rather he figures that everyone expects him to strike out or pop up and if he does otherwise they will be greatly surprised. Instead of wanting to surprise them, the average pitcher is content to take three careless swings and retire to the bench. If all batters went to the plate feeling the same way about hitting as do pitchers not many hits would be made during the course of a ball game."

Bush admits that Babe Ruth was his inspiration in the batting line. While always a fairly good hitter and always anxious to get a base hit, Bush says the success of Ruth at the bat spurred him on, since it proved a pitcher could hit as well as pitch.

There is no question but that Bush is correct in his theory. Nine out of every ten pitchers consider batting a mere formality. Their attitude is that no one expects the pitcher to hit and they are willing to carry out that theory. Perhaps the managers are at fault for not dwelling more on the necessity that every pitcher try his best at the bat. There is no denying that a good hitting pitcher adds much to the offensive strength of a ball club.

When another campaign rolls around Michigan will find it minus the services of four of the greatest players who ever wore the Maize and Blue. They are Kipke, Muirhead, Uteritz and Blott. They made up a wonderful quartet and it will perhaps be a long time before the Wolverines will boast another such combination. They were all stars of the highest magnitude at their various positions.

LOSE McMILLEN

Illinois will lose McMillen its brilliant leader and equally strong guard. Minnesota will be deprived of Earl Martineau one of the greatest backs in western conference history and Ohio State will no longer have the sensational Hoge Workman to shoot out forward passes and gallop around the flanks.

At Wisconsin Captain Marty Below has played his last college game and so has Jimmy Tault of Chicago and Glen Miller Iowa. These chaps will all be hard to replace. And there are others too who have closed their

GOLF BALLS ARE BETTER WITH AGE

Chicago Jan 8—Experiments have shown that golf balls need to be aged several months to be durable it was said today by the manager of a sporting goods house. The annual consumption of the pellet amounts to 4 000 000 worth $15 000 000 at retail.

During the last few years manufacturers have been unable to keep up with the demand and the insistent golfer grabs the green ones during the summer not knowing that if he purchased his supply in the fall and winter he would not cup so many.

GOLF BODY IS STANDING PAT

Election of Officers, Few Speeches, All Action Taken.

BY LAWRENCE PERRY.
Copyright 1924

New York Jan 8— Any lexicographer who at the present time happens to be at work upon a new dictionary will with difficulty resist the temptation after he has defined the meaning of the phrase stand pat to add the following 'See United States Golf Association.'

The net results of the annual meeting of the U S G A held this city over the week end were the election of new officers, the reading of some papers splendid in diction and in spirit uplifting and finally an intimation that something further maybe done about a standardized golf ball.

NOTHING IS DONE

Nothing was done about the stymie. It was so to speak let lay. Patened and ribbed clubs were not mentioned nor out of bounds rules. In brief it was a perfectly conservative meeting and if any of those lions who had been roaring before the meeting attended the gathering their demeanor lost everything of feline savagery and whatever noise they made was far more suggestive of the cooing of doves or the bleating of lambs.

St Andrews will get no jolt at all out of this meeting and the Anglo-American brotherhood will continue so far as rules at least are concerned to be a real working fraternity.

AIMED AT TILDEN

Some tennis enthusiasts feel that the United States Lawn Tennis Association committee on amateur rules was shooting at Bill Tilden in its outgiving upon the subject of tennis players who write for newspapers and periodicals. If so Tilden ducked the issue gracefully when he stated that he was a writer several years before he played in national tourneys.

As a matter of fact Tilden for several years has set down his vocation as that of author whenever he has had to sign a paper where in a statement of profession was requested.

George Pfann will not enter West Point as at first seemed likely. Instead he will serve as an assistant coach at Cornell. His engagement will bring the staff of football coaches at Cornell up to three. Herein lies a hint to Universities whose [illegible] authorities are casting about for means of retrenchment. The photographs of coaching staffs at certain universities annually match accompanying photos of the varsity squads in point of size.

SWEDEN'S WARNING SIGNALS SUCCEED

Stockholm—(AP)—Swedish railroads have tested recently, and found successful a device to warn automobilists, as they approach grade crossings, of the coming of a train.

When a train is 1 000 feet from a crossing electricity is called into play to drop a bar over the vehicle road. The bar is 80 feet from the crossing and takes a position seven feet above the road. From it hang light chains which striking against the car give warning of the oncoming train. After the train has passed the bar automatically is raised. Red and white lights help to emphasize the warning.

Business Says No Peace Plan Can Halt Its War

Automobile Industry Joins Conflict With Opening of Annual New York Show.

BY J. C. ROYLE
(Copyright 1924)

New York, Jan. 8.—The business world today apparently found little stimulus in the announcement of the plan for promotion of world peace which won the Bok peace prize.

Leaders of various industries indicated that whether or not the plan given the prize was proved efficacious in preventing war between nations, no plan had been advanced or suggested among the 22,165 sent in to the Bok jury which would bring to an end the bitter battle for business which faces those engaged in American industry this year.

FIND ENCOURAGEMENT.

Financiers and business leaders found more encouragement in recent announcements regarding the abandonment of the manufacture of ordnance by the Bethlehem Steel company and its newly-acquired property, the Midland Steel Works, and the increased activity in the artificial silk production end of the Dupont factories than in the plan brought forward as a result of the Bok offer.

These indications of a turning of swords into plow shares they say have come about through a sound judgment of domestic and world conditions by level-headed business men instead of as a result of theoretical discussion and therefore may be depended on to indicate the true trend of the future.

AUTOMOBILE WAR

As to business warfare as represented by savage competition, the automobile industry joined battle today with the opening of the New York Auto Show. Sales showed an immediate response to the appeal made by the exhibits and efforts of sale representatives, and it seems likely that the amount of business done during the exhibition will surpass that of any year since the holding of the show has become an institution.

The Ford company is supplementing its other efforts by a separate exhibition which shows the Ford product in all stages of manufacture. What the other makers must face when the Ford concern gets down to fighting for business in 1924 may be judged by the fact that it is estimated that the profits for the coming year on the schedule of production now outlined will exceed $200 000,000.

ON LOWER OUTPUT.

The profits of the company for the year ending June 30, 1923, amounted to $124,193 062, but this was piled up on a daily output far lower than is being maintained at present. In addition the increased number of cars turned out has enabled the company to manufacture each car cheaper and given an added margin of profit.

The failure of the business world to show response to the peace plan was rather the more remarkable since the reaction of commerce and industry to the announcement of the Mellon tax reduction program had been so marked. However, the fall of the franc received almost as little attention. Normally this would have exerted considerable influence from its affect on French demand for American materials and French competition in the field of manufactured goods. However, the business men of this country found out that the drop in the value of the mark had not exercised a tremendous influence on American business and now seem to feel that the situation France now is facing will have equally little effect.

$10,000,000 FOR BUILDING PROGRAM

New Orleans, Jan 8—Plans already have been drawn which call for the expenditure during the coming year of between $8,000 000 and $10 000,000 on large commercial buildings hotels, schools and hospitals. Construction of residences which totaled about $10,000 000 in 1923 is expected to show an increase. Real estate sales in the past year here totaled $72 000 000.

NASH DIVIDEND.

New York, Jan 8—Directors of the Nash Motors company Monday declared an extra dividend of $1 50 on the common stock and the regular semi-annual common stock dividend of $3 50 and quarterly dividend of $1 75 on the preferred stock.

NEW ORLEANS HAS 47 NEW INDUSTRIES

New Orleans Jan 8—Forty-seven new industrial enterprises were established here in the last year and 27 others enlarged their plants. Over 2 000 men were added to the yearly pay-rolls. Bank clearings increased from $2,405,000 000 to $2,781 000 000 while bank resources gained $32 000 000. Imports here increased about $100 000 000, due largely to a decrease in grain shipments.

DETROIT FACTORY WORKERS INCREASE

Detroit Jan 8—Employment in industrial plants here this week shows an increase of 14 293 this week after the holiday and inventory period slump. Employment totals 214,283 compared with 171,193 last year.

TWIN CITY BANKS WEATHER STORMS

St Paul Jan 8—Twin cities banks successfully weathered the storms of 1923 produced by difficulties in the spring wheat sections. Deposits and resources are approximately the same today as a year ago while loans have decreased eight per cent. Bankers and business men say conditions in the northwest are more propitious than they were last January.

PEERLESS MOTOR PLANT IS OPEN

Cleveland, Jan. 8.—The Peerless Motor plant resumed today after a shut-down of three weeks, during which time the plant was remodeled for manufacture of a new six cylinder car, which is expected to be ready to ship about March 1. About 500 idle men have been re-engaged at the Baltimore and Ohio repair shops here and the Erie tire plant at Sandusky has resumed after a close down of sixty days. The United Alloy Steel Company has reopened 10 sheet mills giving employment to 300 men.

WHEAT PRICES ARE EASIER

Selling Against Buying Brings Slumps; Close Is Unsettled.

Chicago, Jan. 8— Selling against buying in the northwest eased the wheat market today during later dealings. The close was unsettled, at the same as yesterday's finish to ⅛c lower, May $1.03⅝@⅝ and July $1.06⅝@¾.

The opening, which varied from unchanged to ⅝c higher May $1.08¾@1.09¼ and July $1.07¼ was followed by a slight setback from the initial top level

CORN FIRMER.

Corn was firmer with wheat. Receipts remained small, the estimate of arrivals in Chicago today being only 124 cars. After opening unchanged to ⅝c higher May 75¾@76 corn continued to point upward.

It was said the southwest had been buying liberally at Missouri river markets and that the west was buying in Chicago territory. Bulges in price here ran into selling orders and advances were only partly maintained.

The close was unsettled ¼@½c net higher May 76@76⅛c.

Oats started unchanged to ⅛c higher May 45¾@⅞ and later showed no tendency to sag.

Provisions were steady.

CHICAGO HOPES TO END MILK WAR

Authorities Seek to Arbitrate Matter.

Chicago, Jan. 8—Big milk distributors here were looking today for a break in the milk strike at some of the outlying points where they have receiving stations.

Although a conference of producers and distributors resulted in no definite agreement, from sources close to the distributors it was said that the producers were in a better frame of mind and that at some points where producers have been withholding, milk deliveries were expected today.

CLAIM NO SHORTAGE.

The distributors still are sticking to their decision to offer $2.60 a hundred pounds for milk and say there has been no shortage.

The producers have been asking either a longer contract for six months at the old price of $2.75 a hundred pounds or $2.85 for a three months contract.

STATE INSURANCE METHODS COPIED

Springfield, Jan. 8 — Adoption by nearly every state in the Union of the Illinois standard of insurance company reserve fund valuations is a "distinction which the state division of insurance enjoys" at the beginning of the new year, according to George Huskinson, assistant superintendent of the Illinois division of insurance.

The Illinois standard of valuation, Mr Huskinson explained, is a "method whereby the state ascertains the amount required of the company to be deposited with the state."

The Illinois insurance standard of determining reserve funds of insurance companies under the state department was drawn up in 1907 by the late Col. J. J. Brinkerhoff, then superintendent of the department with the aid of Mr. Huskinson.

100 WOMEN AT P.-T. MEETING

District Session Opens in Blue Mound.

(By Staff Representative.)

Blue Mound, Jan. 8—Decatur and Macon county are well represented among the more than 100 women attending the meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association District No. 8, in session Tuesday in Blue Mound. The afternoon and evening sessions are expected to bring in many more women.

Mrs. Clifford E. Tullis, is presiding at the meeting and during the morning she was presented a beautiful bouquet by Miss Mary Margaret Roach school who made the presentation in the name of the Roach Mother's club.

The morning session opened at 10:45 o'clock and the invocation was by Rev. J. D. Butler of Blue Mound. Community singing was led by Charles Nolan also of Blue Mound, and greetings to the women were extended by W. H. Bean to which response was made by Mrs. Mark P. Mears, of Chicago state president who is attending the meeting in Blue Mound.

MRS. HYMAN SPEAKS

Stress was laid on the spiritual side of life throughout the morning meeting. Mrs Cora B. Hamman, county superintendent of schools in Macon county was the speaker of the forenoon. She spoke in particular of the value of the Parent-Teachers' association to the county, emphasizing the three points—the material side, by beautifying the grounds and the school buildings, the educational value in giving the children encouragement and the social value.

The afternoon session opened at 1.30 with a "Mother Goose sketch" by the children of the primary grade in Blue Mound roll-call and the two minutes reports from delegates followed. The balance of the early part of the afternoon will be devoted to experiences and questions by the mothers present.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON

The main speaker for the afternoon will be Mrs. Harry L. Fleming of Bloomington who will discuss "Growing Up With Our Children." The music by the Blue Mound high school band promises to be one of the enjoyable features of the program. A dinner will be served at 6 in the Masonic Temple, at which Mrs. Mears will be the principal speaker.

District No. 8 includes Macon, Menard, Logan and Dewitt counties.

GRADE SETTLING AT NELSON BRIDGE

Break Appears in Asphalt Pavement.

A noticeable settlement in the embankment forming the west approach to the Nelson Park bridge has taken place. This settlement is chiefly apparent in the asphalt pavement of the roadway which seems to have broken at that point. The break is not dangerous to traffic or does not cause serious discomfort in driving over it but it is plainly noticeable. The embankment evidently has settled enough to cause the break.

The possibility of the settlement of the embankment was considered last summer before the pavement was put down. The fill had been made more than a year before the road was paved and it was generally believed that it had done all the settling that it would do. But with the possibility of more settlement the importance of the pavement of this road was such it was deemed advisable to go on with the paving and to make necessary repairs afterward.

NEW CHICKS AT FRED MEEK HOME

Hen Made Nest Under Overturned Wheelbarrow

New chicks, that is the variety that are hatched out by the mother hen herself, are a bit out of season, yet at the home of Fred Meek, 1704 North College street Tuesday morning eight tiny bantam chicks chipped their shells and made their debut into the cold world. Only one egg failed to hatch.

The mother hen has had a nest under an overturned wheelbarrow in the yard for some time and only a few days ago the nest, eggs, hen and all were discovered and brought into the basement.

TO SELL DINOSAUR EGG FOR $5000

New York, Jan 8—(P)—The American Museum of Natural History, which has a world corner on the dinosaur egg market, decided Monday to sell to the highest bidder, for not less than $5,000, one of the twenty-five fossilized eggs of the protoceratops andrews, unearthed in Mongolia last July, by Prof Roy Chapman Andrews, curator-in-chief of the division of exploration and research.

Proceeds of the sale, said Prof. Andrews, would be devoted to the $250,000 fund, which this summer, he hopes to land an expedition into the Gobi desert, 1,000 miles from Peking, in search of remains of primitive man, as he was from 500,000 to 2,000,000 years ago.

The Direct Opposite Of A Puzzle

Some newspapers run a puzzle department for the amusement of their readers, running the puzzles one day and publishing the answers the next.

In fact, some newspapers run two puzzle departments—as you will find if you consult their classified section. And they never publish the answers to the most important of these departments.

But the A-B-C Classified Section of The Review isn't built on the puzzle plan. You don't have to wander through a maze of words to find what you want among its offers. There's nothing puzzling about it at all!

The numerical guides and the alphabetical cataloguing of the opportunities in this section make it the direct opposite of a puzzle!

And the only answers it demands are those which its profitable offers call forth as the connecting link between the prosperity seeker and his opportunity.

Read this systematized list of opportunities today and every day!

ALLOW BURSTEIN TO SELL LIQUOR

Judge Baldwin Modifies Injunction.

ARGUMENT JAN. 19

Brutality of Police Again Charged.

Judge J. S. Baldwin, sitting in chambers, Monday afternoon modified the junction restraining J. M. Burstein from selling intoxicating liquor, and until the further order of the court Burstein may sell liquor under the permits he holds from the federal government and the state of Illinois.

Arguments on the motion entered by Dack & Coleman to quash the writ will be taken up at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, Jan. 19, and if it is impossible to finish the case that day it will be resumed on Wednesday, Jan. 23. Judge Baldwin said that, having expected the case to be finished Monday, he had made an engagement to be in New York Wednesday of this week, so he could not hear any more on the case until Jan. 30.

CHARGE AUTHORITY EXCEEDED.

The attorneys for the defendant declare that the police exceeded their authority and carried away articles not mentioned in the search warrant, and they backed up their assertion by affidavits from Burstein that among the things carried away and which the warrant did not call for was some locanberry juice, non-intoxicating, uncompleted compounds, and twenty-nine prescription blanks that had been filled and which the druggist must save to be inspected by the federal officers. If the motion to quash is allowed that will end the case. If not, there will be a regular trial.

DESCRIBES RAID.

In one of his affidavits Mr. Burstein described the raid on his drug store one night last December, as he had described it to Mayor Elder a day or two later when he called to protest against the treatment he had received at the hands of the raiding party. He said that Chief Crump and half a dozen police officers called at the store and told him he was under arrest and had him sit down in a chair. Robert Byrne and Ben Dille came in to buy newspapers and Byrne's pockets were searched and he was ordered to leave the place, that the police searched the place and that Chief Crump came from behind the prescription case with a jug, containing a partly filled prescription, which he placed on the floor; that Burstein started to the telephone to call an attorney and ask if the proceedings were regular, and Chief Crump struck him from behind, beating him on the head, face and neck; that while Burstein was lying on the floor a man named Green, accompanying the police, held Burstein's feet under his arms and began kicking him; that when Burstein regained consciousness he was sitting in a chair, dizzy from the blows he received, with blood running down his face from a cut near the right eye, and with his hands manacled; that he is five feet, seven inches tall, and weighs 127 pounds; that since the assault he has been under the care of physicians, Drs. M. W. Fitzpatrick and R. Zink Sanders.

LASTS ALL DAY.

The hearing lasted most of the day and was concluded about 4 o'clock. Judge Baldwin then entered the following order on the docket:

"And the court having read the petition and the motion for a modification of said injunction writ, which said petition and motion are duly verified, and having heard the arguments of counsel and being fully advised in the premises, doth order, that the temporary writ of injunction issued herein against said defendant on the 21st day of December, 1923, be, and the same is hereby modified to the extent only of permitting the possession and sale of intoxicating liquor, in strict accordance with the federal and state permits now possessed by said defendant, and also the necessary transportation, if any, of said liquor, under said permits, until the further hearing hereof.

"It is further ordered that said injunction writ stand in full force and efficacy, except as herein above modified, until the further order of the court herein."

WILLIAM NEELEY GOES TO ASYLUM

Attempted to Kill Wife Week Ago.

William A. Neeley, who about a week ago attempted to shoot his wife in a restaurant at Morgan and Cerro Gordo streets, was declared insane by a commission in the county court Tuesday morning and will be taken to Jacksonville.

MAYNARD SENT AWAY.

Horace Maynard, the stranger who was picked up Monday night toting three big guns, was also committed to the Jacksonville asylum as an insane person. He said that he served in the World war as a member of the One Hundred and Forty-ninth Engineers, and ever since the war he has been under the influence of the astronomers.

"Know how they make these weather forecasts?" he asked.

"I've been in 216 cities in the United States and it is done the same way in all of them. I make them myself. Twenty-four hours before there is to be a change in the weather I have a dream. If it is to be stormy in the east, west, north or south, I dream about a black man in whatever direction the change in the weather is to occur. If it is to be fair I dream about a white man in the east, west, or wherever the change is to be. If it is only to be cloudy I dream about a mulatto."

Decatur

Let the Court Do It.

Lawbreakers should be punished.

This community wants those who flout the law to be taught lessons which will impress them with their obligations as inhabitants, if not as citizens, of America.

But this community wants the lawbreaker punished by the courts, not by the police.

That affidavit filed by J. M. Burstein, the East Eldorado street druggist, who was arrested charged with selling liquor illegally, in which he tells of the alleged mistreatment of himself by the police of Decatur calls for the most rigid investigation.

The police department should be cleared of such charges made by and sworn to by this man.

Apprehension of those deemed guilty of breaking the law is a necessity.

Brutal treatment of them after being taken cannot be tolerated. It neither inspires respect in the mind of the alleged lawbreaker for the law nor does it meet with the approval of those to whom the officers are directly responsible—the community.

This charge of brutality made by Mr. Burstein, has no bearing on whether or not he is guilty.

It has nothing to do with his guilt or non-guilt but it does reflect upon the attitude of the police.

Mr. Burstein's charges are very specific. They are neither hazy nor indefinite.

Decatur's police department must be cleared of these charges.

The officers must know that the community does not look upon the police force as the punitive part of the administration of justice.

That is for the courts.

DISSENTION HALTS BORDEN BUS LINE

Report Dispute Over Management of Funds.

HAUL 2000 EACH DAY

Expect to Be Running in Short Time.

Internal dissensions within the corporation are blamed for the suspension of service by the Borden Bus Co., which has been operating a bus line serving the southwest section of the city, which took place Tuesday morning.

Just what the difficulty is remains a disputed point and while on one side it is said that the Garford Co., makers of the trucks which the company is using, had closed down on the busses because of failure to make payments, on the other side it is stated that the truck company stated Tuesday that payments are not due and that just as soon as the situation is cleared up the company will be glad to restore the busses.

TAKE BUSSES.

John Blake, a minority stockholder, appeared before the city council Tuesday morning to say that the Garford company had taken over the busses, "locked them up" as he put it, and that the service had been temporarily discontinued.

Mr. Blake who said that he and Mr. Borden had been unable to get along in the management of the affairs, asked the council if it would give him the route if he could arrange to finance two or possibly three busses. He expressed the belief that he could do that within a week.

The members of the city council said that they could do nothing but that Mr. Blake or city officials could take it up with the Illinois commerce commission for settlement.

HAUL 2,000 A DAY.

Later a representative of Mr. Borden called members of the city council and the corporation counsel asking them to reserve judgment until they had all of the real facts about the situation.

It developed that the company carries on an average of about 2,000 passengers a day and that it gives a considerable service to the territory which it covers.

Representatives of Mr. Borden say that the service will be interrupted only temporarily.

DISAGREEMENT.

They say that the difficulty is not financial as far as the payment for the busses is concerned. It seems to be a disagreement within the company as to how the funds shall be handled and by whom.

Of the $4,000 capital stock of the company it is said that Mr. Borden owns $3,000 and Mr. Blake $400 and that the trouble has arisen over questions of internal management and control.

CITY STARTS ACTION ON IMPROVEMENTS

New Water Main for North Water St.

THREE PAVEMENTS

Two Streets and Alleys on Program.

Following the policy which Lee Boland, corporation counsel, announced some time ago that he expected to adopt, that of putting public improvement through both the city council and the board of local improvements, the city council Tuesday morning passed resolutions regarding three paving jobs and a water main. The same improvements are to be passed upon in the same manner by the board of local improvements during the afternoon.

The paving of the alley between West Main and West Prairie avenue from North Edward to North College street, the paving to be concrete, and the public hearing to be at 11 o'clock Jan. 21, was one.

OTHER PROJECTS.

Resolutions were passed and public hearings were set for the following additional projects:

The laying of six inch water main in North Water street from Olive street to Brennaman lane, public hearing 11 a. m. Jan. 21.

Paving of North Broadway—with brick from Orchard to Condit, public hearing 10:30 a. m. Jan. 19.

Paving of North Broadway, with brick, Sangamon to Orchard, public hearing, 10 a. m., Jan. 19.

PLAYING SAFE.

In order to be safe should the supreme court reverse itself on the rehearing of the case recently taken up by the city on the need of a board of local improvements for cities of less than 50,000 population having a commission form of government, Mr. Boland is putting the projects through both the council and the board.

Many other projects are about ready for presentation for passage and it is expected that the various improvements which have been held up by the uncertainty which followed the law which took effect last July will be rushed through their various double legal procedures so that work may be started as early as possible in the summer.

Ice Unsafe for Skating Anywhere

Water Rapidly Covering Surface.

The warm weather has ended skating temporarily. The ice is rapidly melting and is unsafe for skating both at Dreamland and at Lake Decatur. A small group of youngsters were trying the ice Tuesday night at Dreamland but a thin covering of water spoiled the fun of the event. There will not be anymore skating until the lakes freeze over again.

THREE DOGS DIE AT ONE CORNER

North Main and West King Becoming Danger Spot.

Death crouches ready to spring on poor unsuspecting dogs at the intersection at North Main street and West King street. The corner will soon become known as Dog's Death Corner if the calamities continue to pile up as rapidly in the future as they have in the last week.

A little stray white dog was killed by a passing car and left unmourned in the center of the street.

Don Shield on North Main street came along with his German police dog and stopped to examine another victim of an automobile. Even as he looked at the dead form of the other dog his own was struck by a passing car and killed. This made the total dog casualties go up to three.

INTER-SOCIETY DEBATES DISCUSSED

High School Organizations Meet.

In the meetings of Rotaro and Forum of the high school Monday evening, inter-society debates and contests of a literary nature were the main topics of conversation. Some of the enthusiasm from the debate with Springfield has carried over. There has been some question as to whether or not varsity debaters will be eligible. If so Rotaro would be unusually fortunate in having six of the varsity members within that society. The committees were:

Rotaro—William Storr and John Heil, with Mr. Nordman as advisor.

Forum—Willis Dougherty and Franklin Bear, with Mr. Hubbard as advisor.

NEXT SEMESTER.

Due to examination week Jan. 21 25, the debates will not be held until after the beginning of the next semester.

The Millikin Debating League, of which Decatur is a member, together with about nine of the larger schools in Central Illinois, has a schedule being arranged for a number of debates to take place during February and March. The inter-society contests would provide excellent training.

PARENTS TO MEET.

At the meeting of the Parent Teachers Association Thursday afternoon, the same program will be given as was presented at the Kiwanis meeting some time ago. William Trisch, Martha Holt, and Roger Yoder will speak on school activities.

All boys interested in track in the spring and those trying out for the team for relay carnival met in the locker rooms with Mr. Robertson Tuesday to talk over the plans.

There will be an auditorium at the usual hour Wednesday morning.

CLASS TO WRITE.

John Mann's class in physics in the Decatur high school will write their opinions of the Edward Bok peace program. No formal recognition will be taken of the peace program by the high school as a whole but it is expected that several of the classes will give some attention to it.

Poultry Show Open to Public

Exhibit in West Wood Open in Evening.

The exhibition hall for the twenty-first annual show of the Decatur and Macon County Poultry and Pet Stock association was just comfortably filled with exhibits when the show was thrown open to the public Tuesday morning. The show room, which is in the 200 block West Wood street, is large and well-lighted but in previous years it has been necessary at times to stack cages of birds in tiers. This year putting the cages on top of each other was not necessary.

The quality of the birds on exhibit this year is extremely high. Attendance Tuesday promised to be very good. Judges started work Tuesday morning and by the middle of the afternoon the prize-winning ribbons had been put up on some of the classes. The show will be open each night.

FRANK HAMSHER IS DEAD IN MISSOURI

Former Decatur H. S. Principal Passes Away.

AT WEBSTER GROVES

"Whole Life Was Inspiration" Says Friend.

Frank Hamsher, a former principal of the Decatur high school and well known in this city where he was born and reared, died at his home in Webster Groves, Mo. at 11 o'clock Monday night, following a long illness.

TAUGHT HERE.

Mr. Hamsher was born in Decatur, May 4, 1873, the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Hamsher. He was educated in the schools of Decatur, graduating from the high school in 1890. He then went to Ann Arbor, Mich., where he graduated in 1894. Returning to his home he taught in the local high school for two years before he was made principal, a place he held from 1897 to 1901.

SUPERINTENDENT SCHOOLS.

From Decatur Mr. Hamsher went to Champaign where he was teacher in the academy in connection with the university. Here his health broke down and he went to Colorado Springs, Colo., on a year's leave of absence. Returning to this section he went to St. Louis where he was principal of the Smith's school, which was preparatory to Washington University, for a number of years. Later he was made superintendent of the schools of Webster Groves, Mo., a place he held until his death.

For eleven years Mr. Hamsher was manager of a camp for boys at Minne Wonka, Wis., which has been attended by many Decatur boys. A friend said of him:

WAS INSPIRATION.

"His whole life has been an inspiration. He never gave grudgingly of either his time, substance or strength. To know him was to admire and respect him."

He married Miss Lucy Coolidge of Bloomington in 1900. She, as well as one son, Elwood Coolidge Hamsher, fifteen years of age, his mother, one sister, Mrs. Dessie Vigus, 738 West William street, Decatur, and one brother, Harry E. Hamsher of Peoria, survive him.

FUNERAL WEDNESDAY.

The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon from the Congregational church in Webster Groves. Thursday morning the body will be taken to Bloomington where the burial services will be held in the afternoon.

ALWAYS BENEFITED.

Dr. Lynn M. Barnes pays the following tribute to Mr. Hamsher:

"By the death of Frank Hamsher I have lost a very dear friend; a friend to whom I could go at any time for counsel, sympathy or encouragement and always be benefited by the interview. Though handicapped by ill health for years his sunny disposition was never altered. He was efficient in his work, generous to a fault and absolutely just to all."

Banquet Ends Contest.

Several weeks ago a financial contest was put on in the Antioch Baptist church, between the women and the men. It was decided that the side which raised the most money was to be entertained at a banquet given by the losing side. The women were the victors and on Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock a banquet will be served in the church. The people who took part in the contest are urged to come. There will be no admission fee.

War and the racial problem, she reported, were the main questions and were treated fairly in debate.

Bore 300 Holes in Scovill Ceilings

Get Quart of Water By Each Operation.

A force of workmen were busy Tuesday morning boring 300 small holes in the ceilings of the second and third floors of the Scovill company store, where a broken sprinkler system head had flooded the store Saturday night. These are the metal or steel ceilings, blocked off ornamental squares of perhaps, thirty-inch squares.

The water from the Saturday night flood, seeping down through the floors, caught on the upper sides of these metal squares and the only way to remove it was to bore holes in the underneath side and drain them. About a quart of water was taken from each square.

ADJUSTERS COMING.

The workmen were also busy going over the damaged part of the building, getting it back in shape. Insurance adjusters are scheduled to be here Wednesday to settle the loss. The condition of Guy Scovill, head of the company, who was threatened with pneumonia following his experience at the store Sunday, was reported as somewhat improved Tuesday morning. However, he was still confined to his home.

OPEN MEETING ON BOK PEACE PLAN

At Y. W. C. A. 8 O'Clock Next Monday.

FEW HAVE READ IT

J. J. Richeson in Favor of Suggestions.

An open meeting for discussion of the suggestions for world peace as embodied in the Bok peace prize award has been arranged by the director of the Y. W. C. A. for 8 o'clock next Monday night. W. F. Hardy and C. A. Walt will speak at the meeting. The public is invited.

The committee in charge of the award sent to the Y. W. C. A. a number of coupons asking for a vote and these will be distributed for use in the meeting. It is hoped by the meeting to create more interest in the plan so that it can be studied with a view to determining whether or not it has suggestions that will be valuable to establishing a poll v that will insure peace.

JOHNSON FOR MEETING.

"I believe we should have a public meeting and talk over the proposal as made in the accepted proposition for the best method of securing permanent peace following Mr. Bok's offer," said James D. Johnson when asked Tuesday what he thought of the plan offered.

"We could have a meeting and the subject clearly explained."

WILL VOTE "YES."

"I have read the plan, not merely the summary, but the text of the whole plan," said R. Allan Irwin, assistant secretary of the Association of Commerce, "and I expect to vote "Yes" on it. While I do not approve of all of the suggestions the general plan is practical."

"We talk much about our government, read a little about it and then do less" said Robert J. Hunt when asked about the Bok plan. "We do not take enough general interest in public affairs."

MAYOR DECLINES OPINION.

Mayor Elder had not studied the plan particularly. "I think we have enough to do to run the affairs of the city without taking over the affairs of the nation," said the mayor in explanation of his lack of opinion on this particular subject.

MANY RETICENT.

It was found that in the questioning of persons that for the most part very reticent in speaking of the subject. Many of them frankly admitted that the paper had been laid aside to be read later but as yet had not even been read. Some stated that they had hastily perused it and were interrupted in the reading.

One reported questioned ten people Tuesday morning which included three history teachers in Decatur high school, three business men, and three students of the University of Illinois who are here in the city on an inspection trip, and the superintendent of school, J. J. Richeson. Of the ten persons questioned nine of them admitted that they had not read the article with a deep enough understanding to be able to discuss it.

FAVORED BY RICHESON.

Superintendent Richeson stated that he was deeply interested in the prize and heartily in favor of it saying, "We are our brothers keepers. America was peculiarly freed from the terrible sufferings incident to the last World War and yet I am not unmindful of the fact that many thousands of our own boys laid down their lives to put down an unrighteous war then waging and to eliminate the causes of war. Not only that but hundreds of thousands of men just establishing themselves in professions, business and trades were interrupted in their work to take up arms in such warfare and many of them are now out of employment. We owe it to our civilization, to make such conditions impossible for all future time. The world knows America is not too proud to fight and that it can fight, but I hope that the world knows that America does not want to fight.

"Plan No. 1469 makes it possible for America to refrain from all entangling alliances, preserve her absolute independence of Old World politics and yet take an active part in the discussion of World affairs and in the settlement by reasoning and arbitration of national differences.

"The fears of the alarmist are appeased and the wishes of the most ardent advocates of world peace are provided for. We believe that the world-wide peace will be more easily and more speedily established when the United States is agreed upon a plan, and in No. 1469 we have a plan upon which America should find it easy to agree. Mr. Bok is certainly to be commended for providing a way for the advancement of such a plan.

OTHERS RESPOND.

Some asked said:

Rev. R. B. Irwin—No doubt the proposed peace plan is all right, I see it in many desirable features upon reading, but I am not familiar enough with the issues to express an opinion. This I will say, that League of Nations, Peace plans and other steps toward peace will not avail until the people of the world discard their personal and petty selfishnesses and make their own hearts right.

W. H. Duerr—I have been really too busy to go into the matter as deeply as I should. The proposed plan, as I read it without very deep thought, presents many admirable proposals.

B. Earle Roberts— The proposed plan is thoroughly practical and conservative and seems practical. I have heard much comment from people who expected to find in the plan some new thoughts or propositions that were entirely original, unheard of before. That would hardly be possible, but the writer of the winning plan has grouped together his points into one plan that should, if adopted, do much toward gaining world peace.
